Washable waistcoats will be much worn.

The man who is always wishing he were dead is sure to be the first to rush for the door of a theater at the cry of fire.

The Dependent Pension Bill has been signed by the President and now the soldier will be happy. From six to twelve dollars a month is what it makes provision for.

One can't tell who are the rich and poor in this country, but so far as clothes are concerned, a good many girls who go sea bathing are certainly well off.

Surprise is the essence of humor. To understand this just notice another fellow suddenly picks up a five dollar bill right from under your feet and see how funny you feel.

The Democrats of Pennsylvania are under obgliations to Col. Quay for the masterly manner in which he has put things in shape for the election of a Democratic Governor.—Watchman. Is that so? Well there are two more things you can add to the one above that the democrats will be under obligation for. The first is for controlling the nomination of the candidates in Scranton tomorrow and the second is for the way he will devise to most thoroughly whip the democratic ticket next fall.

Opinions of the Press.

Pittsburg Commercial Gazette: Allegheny led the movement to Delamater on the second ballot, and Allegheny will give him a rousing majority, the creaking of jealous sore heads to the contrary notwithstanding.

Pittsburgh Times: Such a nomination, made by such methods, against such protests and despite such warnings—made to accomplish a declared intention to "own a governor of Pennsylvania"—is only explainable as the act of a man intoxicated with absolute power and reckless of consequences.

New York Tribune: The ticket headed by Senator George W. Delamater will doubtless win easily. The struggle for the nomination for governor was an animated one, but before the second ballot was announced Mr. Delamater's strength was seen to be so pronounced that the other aspirants practically abandoned the field.

Philadelphia Record: It is as the candidate of Senator Quay, and as a pupil in his school of politics, that Mr. Delamater will be elected or defeated at the ballot box. This will be, in fact, the leading if not the only issue of the campaign; and it is of sufficient importance to deserve the earnest consideration of every citizen of this commonwealth.

New York Press: We regret that the convention did not nominate General D. H. Hastings for governor, as he was the strongest candidate before them, and would have had a walkover; but Mr. Delamater is a man of ability and experience in public affairs, and as the next governor of Pennsylvania he is capable of giving the state a good administration.

Philadelphia Press: That Senator Delamater will make an able and efficient governor no one questions. The opposition to him was based almost wholly on doubts of his ability to rally the full republican vote. Now that the convention has in a manner resolved these doubts, we look to see all the candidates and their friends turn in and give him their hearty allegiance.

New York Herald: Mr. Delamater is a respectable candidate, although the principle argument in his favor is his relation to the standard oil company. That powerful corporation understands its interests and protects them with intelligence. If the Republican party in Pennsylvania is contents to be a chattel of the company we do not know that it concerns any one outside of the State.

New York Star: Delamater's nomination by Quay's convention will suit the democrats and independents of Pennsylvania. The fulsome endorsement of the floater fund chief sharply defines the issue between corrupt and reckless administration and prudent and honest government. It must be that the election of such a man as Quay's henchman is impossible by the fair vote of the Keystone state.

Pittsburgh Dispatch: As Delamater stands he is a weak and undesirable candidate. But the republican majority is Pennsylvania is so great that even a weak and undesirable candidate may be elected if the democrats do not put one who is singularly strong and acceptable. They have such a man in Pattison—a tried, trusted and capable gentlemen Pattison once before won over the republican majority and gave excellent and fearless service as governor.

Philadelphia ledger: We wish the Ledger could say that Mr. Quay's judgment in selecting a candidate for governor from among the aspirants in this canvass was equal to his skill and ability in controlling the event. General Hastings, we think, would have been a more advisable nominee—certainly in the party point of view. If the selection had been made by a popular vote of the republican party, instead of having been brought out by the influence of the organization, we think he would have been the nominee.

Philadelphia North American: There will be a few who will vote against Mr. Delamater because of a mistaken belief that he is not his own master in politics, but when the day of election comes the defections from the republican vote will not be worth considering. Were he less deserving than he is, no democratic candidate could defeat him, except with another republican in the field as a third candidate. It was the third candidate who elected Governor Pattison, and that won't happen again until there is need.

Philadelphia Times: Of course Delamater will have many thorns in his gubernatorial path; the woods are full of party screheads who will incline to sulk in their tents; there are many factional sores which will fester as the battle continues; there are profound convictions against machine rule which will be felt in many sections, and there is general unrest in agricultural and other industrial circles, but if Quay's leadership gives birth to such obstacles it also commands the means and the methods by which they are usually overcome.

New York Sun: The Hon. Matthew Stanley Quay thoroughly enjoyed himself yesterday in spite of the weather. His convention nominated his man, the Hon. George Wallace Delamater for governor. The heels of the kickers were paralyzed, and the friends of the other candidates tumbled over one another in their wild desire to make the nomination unanimous. The most noticeable thing in the platform is the chaste and comprehensive certificate of character, recommendation, clean bill of health, and vote of thanks which Mr. Quay gives himself. The grin and the humorous depression of the left eyelid with which he reads this masterpiece must be a joy to see.

The Family was too Big.

In the democratic papers last week can be found the withdrawal cards of two aspiring candidates for the nomination for Sheriff. One is from John P. Condo, of Spring Mills, who withdraws because he "Believes the harmony of the party would be promoted by his withdrawal and furthermore does not believe that the nomination belongs to that side of the county." He also says the "party should present its most available and strongest candidate." This is a candid admission that he did not consider himself that man.

The other withdrawal is John Noll, of Bellefonte. He withdraws because he has not the "time nor the means to carry on a campaign," but that this is only a secondary reason is evident from what appears further on in his card, viz,; "I will be found in the line of duty, doing my humble part for the party that may defeat me after nomination." That is the primary reason for his withdrawal; fear of defeat. And, in both the above, the aspirants show th good judgment. They see the handwriting on the wall. They realize that it is not going to be a walk-over for them this fall. They know that it will take desperate measures and hard work and then there is only a chance. We again say in this they showed good sense.

But is this the real reason? We are inclined to think not. We are of the opinion that they were forced out of the ranks by the party leaders who preferred some other one of the large number who are eager and willing to sacrifice their "time and means" for the good of their country. This is politics. But the Democrats of Centre county are acting the very part that they are condemning in the Republicans of Pennsylvania, that of the whole party dancing to the tune as played by one piper. John Condo and John Noll were both forced out of the race in order to give place for others who have less claim and less likely to win, if nominated, but who are the choice of the leaders.

There always was a democratic ring in Bellefonte that run the party in the county and at no time during the past twenty years have the workings of that ring been brought nearer the surface or more to light than during the past few weeks. It is as evident now as the difference between day and night that the ticket that will be put in nomination this fall will be more of a ring ticket than was ever known before. Six men to be put in nomination and twenty six aspirants for the position. Six men to carry off the plums and twenty to spend their time and money and finally be ruled out by the ring because they are not the ones that are wanted. Enviable position and endless consolation. The ring says we are willing to take your time and money but we don't want you.

A Narrow Escape.

Little Frank Gearart, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gearhart, had a narrow escape from drowning in the river last night. In company with another lad he was playing on the saw logs when he fell into the water. Fortunately his cries for help were heard and he was rescued from his perilous position.—Express.

A Nebraska man who founded a town wanted the postoffice named "Myself-Wife-Mary-Kitty-and-Harry;" but the postoffice department found that he owned a dog and hadn't included him in the name, and therefore justly refused to be a party to any such chicanery.

The New Dependent Pension Law.

Sec. 3. Free Mail Delivery.

Owing to the delay in getting the necessary furniture and all equipments to successfully conduct free mail delivery in Bellefonte, the new system will not be inaugurated until Monday, July 7 All the street letter boxes will be locked on Saturday evening, July 5, and letters deposited in the boxes on Sunday or Monday morning early will be collected by the carriers in time for all Monday forenoon mails, and regularly thereafter. It is thought better to start out thoroughly prepared, than to be hampered for want of a portion of the necessary furniture and equipments.

All those who intend discontinuing their boxes at the post office, as well as who desire to retain theirs, will greatly help to facilitate matters by paying their box rents promptly. All keys of abandoned boxes can be retained until July 5, without extra charge. They should then be returned to the Post Office where the key deposit amount will be refunded.

"The Hygeia."

"The Hygeia" is the name of one of the largest hotels at Atlantic City and one of the finest kept houses on the beach. More than that, Bellefonte people will be glad to hear that it is owned and managed by the former proprietess of the Columbia House, Philadelphia, Mrs. Elizabeth Hutton, a lady well known to many Centre county people The house is large enough to accommodate several hundred boarders and the grounds surrounding the hotel are the finest to be found by the sea.

Mrs. Hutton was always noted for keeping a very good house when she was in Philadelphia, but it is said that she now surpasses even her own enviable reputation. The terms of the "Hygeia" are most reasonable. We would advise all Bellefonters who go to Atlantic City during the season to stop a this hotel and we assure them they will go away charmed with their treatment

In Other Counties

The traffic over the new Perry county railroad is said to be exceeding the most sanguine expectations of the road's friends.

Miss Elizabeth Cahill, of Huntingdon, has gone to the United States of Columbia as a missionary under the auspices of the Presbyterian church.

Newport, according to the Perry county Times, has gained just twenty inhabitants in ten years, having a population of 1,419 now, as compared with 1,399 in 1880.

Messrs. William M Schrock and F F Koontz have disposed of their interest in the Somerset Standard to Mr. J A Lambert, one of the original proprietors, and his brother, Mr. F K Lambert, Mr. J A Lambert was formerly the Baltimore and Ohio station agent in Johnstown, and until recently was the agent at Somerset.

It Looks Like Pattison.

Just as we go to press a telegram from Scranton contains the information that the democratic convention assembled tnere has just begun to hear the evidence in the contested seats of which there are nineteen. The probability is that no balloting will be done to-day. Everything looks like Pattison, however, and we are inclined to think he will be the man.

Later—Pattison was nominated on the first ballot receiving 198 votes.

Centre will do her Duty.

The work done by the Republican State convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 25th, is irrevocable and must stand; not only must but will stand. The ticket nominated is one every republican can support and no democrat need blush to vote for.

We have no hesitation in asserting that Delamater was not our personal preference. And would it do any good, change the nominee from the choice of the convention, to the man of our own choosing, we would not hesitate to declare the voice of the majority all wrong and to maintain that we alone were right; that our choice was the man and the only man who could be elected. This is but natural. Any man who has a preference must have a decided preference. Our preference was General Hastings. We preferred him because we believed him to be the best man for that high position and hence we were earnest in our desire to see him nominated and were more or less crestfallen when he was defeated. As Ex-Gov. Curtin said: "Centre county offered the Republicans of Pennsylvania Gen. Hastings and they refused to take him, because Centre county has had too many Governors," and from the bottom of our heart, we say, thank God, that is the only reason they could give for not taking him.

But Senator George W. Delamater has been chosen. There is nothing wrong with Mr. Delamater. He leads a ticket clean and good, and one, dear reader, that you and I can support and vote for. That he will be elected on the 4th of next November, and that with a good round majority goes without saying. It is now the duty of every Republican in Centre county to accept the ticket as the choice of the convention and go to work for it with a will and determination that, when the votes are counted next November, they will prove to our western brethren that Centre county can take defeat as nobly as it would receive a victory modestly. Let us show them that we are all republicans, with a common interest in the weal and welfare of the party and that personal preferences can be sunk out of sight in our zealous work and untiring efforts on behalf of the ticket in nomination.

In this respect we can safely promise that Centre county will do its duty We cannot give you the vote we would have given had General Hastings been the nominee, because he has hosts of friends in the opposite party who would have voted for him, but we will give you an undivided republican vote.

The Railroad Won't Be Built.

Rev. J. W. King, pastor of the M. E. church at Manor Hill, was in town yesterday and assures us that the prospects for a railroad to the ore region on Shavers Creek will be built. A week ago he was in company with Major Austin Curtin, a miner named Brewer from Bellefonte, and a gentleman from Philadelphia, and they went on a prospecting tour over the ore fields with a view to verify the statements that had been made from time to time concerning the quantity and quality of the iron ore in that section. The gentleman from Philadelphia is the son of a banker who is interested in the subject, and had the investigation made before he would contribute the means for the construction of the railroad. The party made a thorough examination, and reported that they were satisfied with what they had seen. Veins of ore from eighteen inches to three feet thick were shown them, and the belief is that the best veins of ore have not been discovered.

There is no doubt in Mr. King's mind that the railroad will be built, and that it will be a broad guage road down Shaver's Creek valley to intersect with the Pennsylvania railroad at Petersburg. The Buffalo Run railroad Co., is not idle on the other side of Tussey mountain but are clearing away the brush on the Centre county side, make preparations for the laying of the road to or near Monroe Furnace in this county.

A large number of leases of ore land have been taken, and the ore has been tried by mixing with other ore and worked satisfactorily. Collins Bros., of Bellefonte, are now trying the ore without mixing, and it is believed that it will answer the purpose. If so, it will be an additional incentive for hurrying on the work of the railroad.—Huntingdon Local News.

We will just here add that the railroad wont be built for a good many years yet if it depends on the parties at this end of the line. The reason is that the ore which is reported in such vast quantities is of such a poor quality that it will not pay to go for it.

STATESMEN IN SESSION.

Pennsylvania's Republicans in Convention Assembled.

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED.

It Indorses Senator Matt Quay and Declares for Ballot Reform and a Reduction of the Taxes Imposed by the Democrats.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 26.—Long before 10 o'clock, the hour at which the Republican state convention was to be called to order, crowds began to gather in front of the opera house and at 9 o'clock, when the doors were opened, a rush was made for the galleries, which were soon packed to suffocation.

The call for the convention was read by Secretary Leach, who also called the roll. In Allegheny county W. C. Thouland was substituted so he could nominate Maj. Montooth. After the roll call Gen. B. F. Fisher, of Philadelphia, moved that the Berks county contesting delegates be admitted with half a vote each. Charles M. Plank opposed this motion and Chairman Andrews finally settled the matter by declaring that a temporary organization should be at once effected.

A. S. L. Shields, of Philadelphia, nominated George S. Graham for temporary chairman. He was elected unanimously and was escorted to the platform by H. H. Bryan, of Allegheny, and W. W. Brown, of McKean. Upon being introduced by Chairman Andrews Mr. Graham was greeted with great enthusiasm.

Mr. Graham thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him, and at the conclusion of his remarks the temporary organization was announced as follows: Secretary, Frank W. Leach; assistant secretaries, John W. Morrison, Charles F. Ettla, Seymour L. Rau.

Mr. Elkins, of Indiana, offered a resolution that all resolutions relating to platform be referred to the committee on platform. Agreed to.

Committees on contested seats, permanent organization and resolutions were appointed, and at 11:30 the convention took a recess for half an hour.

The convention reconvened at 12:45 p.m. The committee on resolutions found it difficult to agree upon a platform, and this fact accounted for the delay in reassembling. Chairman Lowe, of the contested seats committee, reported with regard to the Berks county contest that the committee found that 134 delegates remained and elected Charles M. Plank, Alfred Glass, G. H. Valentine, D. S. Bumbach, Jesse F. Bechtel.

Sixty-two delegates bolted and nominated the contestants. The committee were unanimously in favor of seating the regularly elected delegates, and the convention adopted the report unanimously. Mr. Woods, chairman of the committee on permanent organization, submitted his report, and it was unanimously adopted.

The Platform.

The following is the platform adopted:

Once more the Republicans of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania in convention assembled send fraternal greetings to their party brethren throughout the nation, and congratulate them and ourselves upon the victory won in 1888 by the purity of Republican principles and the patriotism of Republican citizenship. For the chairman of our national committee, Mr. Quay, we feel a lasting sense of gratitude for his matchless services in the presidential campaign, and commend his bearing under the slanders which his successful leadership of our party has purchased for him.

As a citizen, a member of the general assembly, as secretary of the commonwealth under two successive administrations, as state treasurer by the overwhelming suffrages of his fellow citizens and as senator of the United States he has won and retains our respect and confidence.

In keeping with the sympathy and the duty of our party we make the following declaration of principles for the betterment of political government and the benefit of our fellow citizens:

We believe that every lawful voter has a right to cast a free ballot at every public election and have it properly counted and certified; and we call upon congress to adopt such legislation as will prevent a suppression or falsification of the votes of our fellow citizens at elections for officers of national government and will end political slavery throughout the nation.

Our care for the welfare of those who upon the field of battle carried triumphantly the principles of Republican faith will end only when the last loyal soldier of the civil war shall have entered into his honest rest, and we ask congress to grant a per diem service position to every Union soldier and sailor who served in and was honorably discharged from the army or navy of the United States.

The claim which the citizens of the border counties of our commonwealth make upon the general government for reimbursement for the loss they sustained in their homes and property at the hands of the enemy during the late war is one which national patriotism should respect and honor, and we urge upon our congressmen the use of every proper effort to have it quickly and completely satisfied.

The McKinley Bill.

We indorse the tariff bill, called the "McKinley bill," in the form in which it was passed by the house of representatives, and we denounce the criticism passed upon that bill in the English parliament as an unwarranted interference by a foreign nation with the rights of the American people to protect American industries.

We reaffirm one of the earliest principles of our party when we declare that American workers should, like American manufacturers, receive national protection; and we request of the general government the strictest enforcement of the laws forbidding entrance into and employment in this country of pauper and contract laborers of foreign nations.

We urge upon congress the immediate necessity of passing such legislation as will prevent the importation and sale of oleomargarine and of intoxicating liquors in this commonwealth contrary to our acts of assembly regulating and restricting the same, and empower every state to enforce its local laws relating thereto in the manner and in accordance with the intent and purpose with which they were enacted.

Ballot reform is and will remain the watch word of our party in every state, and we especially congratulate our political brethren in New York upon the fact that although their Democratic governor could deform, he could not wholly defeat their efforts to secure a free ballot for every American voter throughout the state. We charge the members of the next general assembly with the duty to pass such laws, and if necessity should arise, to provide for such changes in the constitution of our state as will insure to every voter perfect secrecy and freedom in exercising his right of suffrage.

The Democratic Debt.

For almost thirty years the finances of this state have been under the control of our party. During that time we devised a system of taxing corporations, which serves as a pattern for and has been taken as a guide by many sister states in their efforts to collect revenue for public purposes.

We have paid off the debt which the Democratic party of this state created during a time of peace; we have almost extinguished the debt which the Democratic party of the southern states inflicted upon us during the civil war, and years ago we lifted from the lands and homes of our fellow citizens the burdens of state taxation.

But the depression under which our agricultural interests now suffer has made the present system of taxation bear too heavily on them, and therefore we pledge ourselves to lighten that burden, and as far as possible to equalize taxation.

To that end we recommend that the surplus revenue derived from state taxation be used to lessen the taxation now laid upon real estate for local purposes by applying it, so far as it will in legislative wisdom avail, to the increase of the appropriation for the support of the common schools, and to making appropriations for the care of the indigent insane, for the expenses of the jury system and of holding the general elections.

If thereby there should be necessity for enlarging our surplus revenue, we favor a just and equitable increase in the taxation of property of corporations.

We recommend that the local system of taxation be so reformed as to permit the taxation of money capital for local purposes to such an extent as to enable the local authorities to reduce the rate of taxation upon real estate to an equitable basis.

We require of the general assembly vigilance in making appropriation of the public money and of our charitable institutions receiving state aid the strictest economy in the expenditures.

ARRESTED ALL AROUND.

The Sheriff, Mayor, Police and Deputies All in the Toils.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., June 26.—A serious collision occurred Tuesday between the authorities of Spokane county and the city of Spokane Falls. There is rivalry existing between the Spokane Street Railway company and the City Park Transit company, both wanting to lay tracks on Division street for an electric and cable line. The street railway company has its line in position, and the city council ordered the track torn up in five days, the limit expiring at midnight. As a precautionary measure the company had procured an injunction from the superior court to prevent the city authorities from interfering with the tracks.

At 4 o'clock in the morning the work of demolition began. Acting Mayor Davidson, Sheriff Hilchliff and other city and county officials were present. The sheriff and his deputies arrested the mayor, superintendent of streets and Captain of Police Martin. They gave bonds, and returning to the scene found a large force relaying the track. The police ordered them to desist, and arrested all who refused, and subsequently took the sheriff and his deputies into custody.

State warrants were then issued for the arrest of all the members of the city council and the entire police force, about sixty-five men. This disqualified the policemen, and a force of special policemen was sworn in. Upon the order of Judge Kenneard, of the superior court, about 250 deputy sheriffs were then sworn in. The local militia regiment is at the encampment near Tacoma, 400 miles away.

There has been no bloodshed so far, but bitter feeling exists, and grave fears are entertained that a personal conflict may occur.

IT WILL SOON COLLAPSE

Salisbury's Government on the Eve of Dissolution.

THE MINISTRY ALARMED.

Planning a New Deal to Restore Its Popularity and Remove the Disgust Engendered by Its Indecision—Sarcastic Denunciation by the Press.

LONDON, June 28.—Signs of an early collapse of the Salisbury government are increasing on all sides. The ministry has unquestionably become alarmed, and is planning a new deal which its hope will strengthen the cabinet and restore the popularity of the government with the many who have become disgusted with its indecision and are ripe for revolt against the Conservative party when an opportunity arrives.

SALISBURY.

As though the predicament in which the government had placed itself were not bad enough, it is making matters immeasurably worse by the childish expedients to which it is resorting to make it appear that the compensation bill has not been crammed down the ministerial throat, but was merely put aside owing to the pressure of public business. The number of gulps it has taken in swallowing the virtual defeat of the bill would have strangled a ministry less desperate in its efforts to hold on to power.

Sarcastic Denunciation.

The Daily News, in paying its respects to the government this morning, declares that it has made a muddle of everything it has undertaken and is not even able to kill itself decently. It is stated that Lord Salisbury, in pursuance of the new deal which the government is endeavoring to make, strongly urged Lord Hartington and Mr. Chamberlain to enter the cabinet.

The former, it appears, was not averse to accepting the invitation as a means of preventing the disintegration of the Unionist party and leaving himself in the position of a leader without a following; but Mr. Chamberlain, scenting inevitable disaster to the government, declined to identify himself with a ministry on the verge of defeat.

Turkish Soldiers Invade a Church.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 28.—It is learned here in connection with the troubles in Erzeroum that a guard of Turkish soldiers invaded a church in that city in the midst of a religious service in search of arms which they believed to be secreted in the building. The worshipers promptly resented the intrusion by opening a sharp fusilade with revolvers upon the Turks. A struggle followed this action in which one Turkish officer, eight soldiers and four of the Armenian occupants of the church were killed. Both Turks and Armenians suffered a considerable loss in wounded.

Later in the day a mob of riotous Mussulmans made a turbulent demonstration in front of the British consulate, the walls and windows of which were bombarded with stones.

A Dutch Steamer Sunk.

LONDON, June 28.—The Dutch steamer Prins Frederik, from Amsterdam for Java, was sunk on the night of June 25, in lat. 47 north, lon. 6 west, by collision with the British steamer Marpessa, from Taganrog for Dunkirk. The collision occurred during a dense fog. The Marpessa has arrived at Falmouth with her bows stove and her forepeak full of water. She had on board the crew and ninety-three passengers of the Prins Frederik. Six lives were lost in the collision. The Prins Frederik was of 1,909 tons register.

The details of the damage done by the gales on the Scotch coast during the middle of this week show that nine vessels were wrecked and thirty-five persons drowned.

Gladstone Will Oppose It.

LONDON, June 28.—Mr. Gladstone will strongly oppose the cession of Heligoland to Germany when the matter comes up for discussion, and will be supported by Sir William Harcourt, Mr. Morley and other leading Liberals. In any event Mr. Gladstone will contend the island must be fortified by Germany, and the inhabitants must be permanently exempted from military duty or service of any character whatever.

His Skill Saved Him.

LONDON, June 28.—The escape of Capt. Young, of the steamship City of Rome, from the loss of his sailing certificate is due wholly to his seamanlike conduct and skill after the accident to his ship. The court gave due consideration to these points, as brought out by the testimony, and were of the opinion that the errors of Capt. Young were merely errors of judgment.

Abducted His Child.

ST. CATHARINE'S, Ont., June 28.—A case of abduction has occured here. A stranger drove up to the door leading to rooms on King street occupied by a lady known as Mrs. Riley. The stranger leaped from the buggy, rushed up the stairs and quickly returned with a little girl in his arms, about 6 years old, and placing her in the vehicle drove rapidly away. Shortly after Mrs. Riley appeared in the street, but just in time to see the rig disappear. On inquiry she said she was divorced twelve months ago in Rochester from L. D. Johnston, the court giving her the child. She came to Canada for the purpose of hiding from her husband, who wanted the child. Johnston has probably crossed the border by this time.

A Schooner Sunk.

HOLLAND, Mich., June 28.—The schooner Belle Laurie, in going out of the harbor at Muskegon, loaded with staves, mistook the house light for the harbor light and ran on the piles, crushing in its bow and bottom and sinking immediately. Her bow is out and the stern is under water. The wreck was sold on the spot as it lies. The boat was owned by Capt. Hans Anderson.

The Intombed Miners.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 28.—At 2 o'clock Friday morning another shift of men was taken into the mines. Those who came out say they are within a few feet of the burning mine. They will be in the Hill Farm mine before many hours, but it will require at least three hours to test the air after the opening is made.

HOW IT WAS DONE

THOUGH BEATEN IN CONVENTION, GENERAL HASTINGS WAS THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE AND IS THE Biggest Man in the State To-day.

THE PERVERSITY OF THE PUBLIC PRESS—THE HASTINGS MEN OWNED THE CITY—THE HOME CLUB—SCENES AND INCIDENTS.

The perversity of the public press throughout the State of Pennsylvania surpasses the understanding of the majority of mankind. Indeed, it almost seems, judging from the unanimity with which the press gave a Delamater coloring to every proceeding of the recent convention in Harrisburg, that every editor was either an office holder under Quay's generosity or the magic wand of sparling silver had crossed the palms of their hands and blurred the respect and dignity of a truthful servitor, rendering all subservient to the whims and wishes of the one man power.

In the prediction of the nomination of Delamater, however, there was displayed no great sightedness, inasmuch as they were only dealing out, day by day, a stock of news furnished them weeks in advance. But when they got down to stating that the Delamater men were in the majority in Harrisburg they either intentionally misstated facts or else had reference only to the delegates. From the time the Centre county Hastings Club arrived in Harrisburg the city was completely owned by Hastings men. Clubs, with high white hats and gay badges, each one having a band in attendance, could be seen at any time and at any place within the limits of the city. The parade on Tuesday evening was the largest demonstration Harrisburg has seen for some time, and it can be truthfully stated that at this time the Hastings men outnumbered all the others three to one and there was not one paid man in the crowd. As for fireworks, they simply cornered the market and the long parade presented one immense line of colored lights, shooting rockets, exploding crackers, etc.

On Wednesday the parading was only indulged in by a club at a time, who would perhaps feel a desire to raise the boom of their respective favorite and in most cases the noise made was sufficient to raise most anything.

In this, as in many other things, the parties who had the first giving out of the tickets, were deserving of severest criticism. It seemed to be the intention of the leaders to pack the opera house with men who would cheer for the right man as there was great partiality shown in the distribution of the tickets. Men wearing a Hastings badge would be refused a ticket. In some cases we knew men to come outside the door substitute the Hastings badge with a Delamater badge go right back in and get a ticket without half trying. We are glad to say, however, that their intentions went astray for, when the convention convened, there were just enough Hastings people in the house to drown every thing else when it came to cheering. How they got there is no secret and anybody desiring any information can get it in full by applying to every second man in Harrisburg.

The result of the convention has already been announced in this paper, so it is not necessary to again give the figures. But we will just here say that if the machine had slipped a notch and failed to come to time on the second ballot Delamater's name would have been Dennis and the demonstration of Thursday night at the home of the big Adjutant-General would have been one of congratulation over his nomination. The above facts are not fallacies of a prejudiced admirer, but material assertions that can be sustained and substantiated. And it was by reason of this knowledge that the announcement of the result of the second ballot was so long delayed—to give the opportunity for a 'flop.' But Hasting's needs no sympathy neither do his admirers have any to offer, but vica versa, he is deserving of, and does receive, the cordial congratulations of all on the fact that he was, is now and ever, will be, of the people's choice, and today he is the biggest man in the State.

We would like to speak at length words of praise for the Centre County Hastings Club but time and space will not permit. Those who saw the club depart on Tuesday morning can form an idea what an imposing body of men it would appear as, with both bands playing, badges flying, heads and canes erect and white hats predominant, the club 200 strong marched up State street past the Lochiel. The Centre county turnout, in toto, was universally conceeded to be, like the Centre county candidate, the best in the field.

There are lots of amusing scenes and incidents connected with the home club that could be related but time forbids. On the return trip some of the boys furnished amusement for the entire crowd, as well as Tyrone, by taking advantage of the sleepy condition of Mannie Green to literally cover him with flour and badges. Even the usually staid conductor could not keep from laughing.

SCENES AND INCIDENTS.

Major Montooth cannot take defeat like our noble Centre countian as was demonstrated by the way he snubbed a flopping delegate in the Lochiel Hotel corridor after the nomination.

Little pieces of colored paper on which were the words "Pay to the order, etc.," circulated very freely at certain places in Harrisburg, and there were a good many of the boys that knew where to get them, too.

John Uzzle, of Snow Shoe, acted as drum major of the Philipsburg band. Mr. Uzzle is always at the front and, we understand, that he personally defrayed the expense of the above band, which is just like him as he never does things by halves.

Died at the Hospital.

The body of Thomas G. Archey, of Pine Grove Mills was buried Pine Grove Mills, on Wednesday the 25th inst. He was struck by an engine at Allegrippus and his skull fractured, says the Altoona Tribune, was admitted to the hospital for treatment, died at that institution of his injuries at noon yesterday. For a few days after he was taken into the hospital preceding his death he grew gradually worse and yesterday morning became unconscious and remained in that condition until death relieved him of his sufferings. The deceased was employed as a laborer on the railroad and was at work when he met with the accident.

The deceased was born in Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, in 1849 and was consequently aged 41 years. He was a widower, leaving one son, who lives at Pine Grove Mills.

He had been a member of the Masonic fraternity, having joined the lodge of Masons at Centre Hall. He was also a member in good standing of the lodge of Odd Fellows at Pine Grove Mills.

Six brothers and three sisters survive him. They are: Arthur Archey, living in this city; John, E C and James, of Pine Grove; Frank of Huntingdon county, and William, of New Rock Springs, Huntingdon county. The sisters: Mrs Jennie Livingston, of Manor Hill; Mrs Lizzie Bell, of Cottage, Huntingdon county, and Mrs Sadie Scott, of Murreysburg, Huntingdon county.

Flames Break Forth.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 27.—The flames which had been burning in the Hill Farm mine burst from the mouth at 8.30 o'clock to-night and leaped thirty feet in the air. All efforts to extinguish the flames have proven fruitless and buildings in the vicinity have been torn down to prevent the fire spreading. At hurried consultation followed between the inspectors and District Master Workman Watchorn as to the advisability of abandoning the search for the imprisoned men. It was the belief of the inspectors that it was absolutely dangerous to proceed further but they decided to finish the work themselves.

A hole has been drilled into the Hill Farm and at 11 o'clock the inspectors started on their perilous search. They have taken their lives in their own hands and may never see daylight again. It is feared the mine is on fire all through or else filled with smoke. In either case the danger is very great. It is of such a character that tries to the utmost the courage of man. In the dark, with tons of loose earth above them, a false step or any kind of motion may bring death in an instant.

Millheim Musings.

Mr. Wm. Sheop, of Centre Hall, was in this place to day, he is one of the well known foundry firms of that place

Mr. Henry Miller, of this place, who is now employed by Mr. Shoop, of Centre Hall, was at home over Sunday. His many friends and acquaintances were very glad to see him. Mr. Miller is a moulder by trade.

Mr. J. A. Miller, the popular boot and shoe man of this place is at present engaged in laying a new concrete pavement in front of his brick house on west Main street, which will increase his property 10 per cent at least. If the fair weather continues Mr. Miller will finish his pavement on Tuesday.

A very heavy rain storm passed over this place and vicinity on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock.

Of late there has been entirely too much fast driving done on the streets of this place, there should, or ought to be, an ordinance against unnecessary fast driving, it would be much safer for the drivers as well as for the pedestrians.

—The Lock Haven Democrat discoursith thus'ly of one of our best business men: "William Lyon, the funniest man in Bellefonte, gave us a call this morning on his way home from the lakes, where he went to buy ice. Mr. Lyon is in the butchering business, and was formerly of Danville. He is one of the famous story tellers of the day and is as full of the best yarns as a dog is full of fleas. It is fun to be where he is and his presence would brighten up a funeral. Funny Bill. Side aches from too much laughter are of great frequency in his company.

A GLORIOUS WELCOME.

Bellefonters Turn Out En Masse to Welcome Home Adjutant General Hastings

Senator George W. Delamater was on Wednesday nominated for Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, but we'll venture that his home going was not followed with half the welcome as was the home coming of General Hastings. For eight long weeks he had been in the field hard at work and now, after the battle had been decided, he came home for a little rest. He returned to Bellefonte on the 4.30 p. m. train Thursday. In the evening the citizens of this place, old and young, women and children, black and white, democrat and the republican, turned out almost to a man, and led by the Bellefonte band, marched to the General's home and filled the spacious grounds as well as the streets surrounding his residence. After the band quit playing the crowd called for Mr. E. C. Humes and that gentleman stepped to the front. He said:

I wish I could do something once in my lifetime that would bring out a demonstration of this kind in my behalf. I did not expect to be called on to make a speech here this evening. I was in Harrisburg where I was cocked and primed for a big speech but there were so many other fellows there that had big speeches to make that I couldn't get mine in edgeways. The reason we didn't nominate General Hastings is because they only allowed us two votes and then we saw the handwriting on the wall. Speaking of the crowd Mr. Humes said there is not a man in town who is not here to-night and if, perchance, there should be they will be here to-morrow. I first thought this was a Republican meeting but there seems to be as many democrats as republicans, and I wouldn't be surprised the next time the General tries to run for governor you fellows will want to claim him.

Ex-Governor Curtin then spoke. I am elated to witness this demonstration this evening. The fight made by the General was a gallant one but the opposition was too great, General Hastings was defeated and now he will support the ticket like a man; but, had he accepted the chairmanship of the State Committee as unanimously tendered him yesterday, I wouldn't be here to-night. You can do as you please about supporting the ticket. The General was the choice of nine-tenths of the people and should have been nominated. And I declare to you to-night that had he been he would have had one vote more. He is qualified to be the nominee of any party. But they said Centre county had too many governors. We gave a governor to California; we gave them Packer; and through Clearfield county we gave them Bilger and then you gave them—me. Then we gave them Beaver and now we wanted to give them Hastings but they wouldn't take him because Centre county has had too many governors. Why we could supply every State in the union and give them better material than they have got at home.

Mr. W. I. Fleming then made the welcome speech which was very appropriate and well spoken, after which the band played and then Hastings was called for. He said:

I am sure I will not be able to express the emotions this demonstration means to me to-night. Had I come back broken hearted over the result in Harrisburg yesterday, I would have satisfaction enough from this to last me a life-time. I am glad to have a little rest and sleep; but I don't mean by that that I am ready to lie in the Bellefonte cemetery or to sleep beneath the roses. I came home but intend to go again. When my friends first urged me to run for the nomination I was scared; but at their constant importunities I went in and done the best I could. I was beaten, fair and honorably, and now I am ready to fall in with the procession and do the best I can. While the campaign was going on the opposition tried hard to get me out of the race. They sent detectives here to hunt up my ancestry and see if there was not something I had done that they could bring again me, but they came away and said there we no spots on that man. The General spoke of the kind feeling for him at home and abroad, and especially in Philadelphia. He referred to the committee of "one hundred," one of whom was present. He then said: When I began to gather too much strength for the opposition I was offered the office of Commissioner of Pensions if I would withdraw, but I refused because I was not a candidate for that office but only for the nomination for Governor. A little later they offered to make me Assistant Secretary of War; then they offered me this and they offered me that but I said "No, gentlemen; I am backed by a public sentiment throughout the State that I will not be false to. After I was beaten yesterday they thought to appease my feelings by offering me the State chairmanship, but I said No, gentlemen; I will not take it. I am going home for a few day's rest and then I will turn up again. The presence of so many of my friends here to-night is evidence to me that my actions meet your approval and, as God lives and I keep my reason, I will never do an act that will not meet your approval." To say that the General was heartily cheered would be putting it very mildly.

The member of the Philadelphia committe of 'One hundred' who was present next called on but did not respond, Col. Lambert, of the Philadelpeia Press, was called for and responded with a fitting speech in which he said he believed General Hastings was the personal choice of three-fourths of the delegates at Harrisburg, if they could have so voted.

Colonel Spangler was the last speaker. He said he did not feel out of place here to-night. We ought all be here, irrespective of politics. After eulogizing the General's campaign he ended as follows: "You cannot put your finger on a mistake he made or a spot on his fair character. Here he stands to-night the best Republican in the State of Pennsylvania. Though beaten in yesterday's convention his future will be greater than his past. The man who can count his friends by the thousands, from lake Erie to the Delaware, you needn't worry about him, worry about the other fellow—the one that beat him—he is the man that will need your sympathy. And, before I close, let me here say that before many years have passed, you will have the chance of greeting General Hastings either as Governor or a United States Senator." The band then rendered another piece and the crowd dispersed.

Cupid at It Again.

On Thursday, June 27, 1890, at Mill Hall, Clinton county, Pa., by the Rev. James Hunter, Mr. Alfred B. Lucas, of this place, was united in holy wedlock to Miss Lyde Miller, of Lamar, Clinton county. The bride and groom returned to Bellefonte the same evening and can now be found safely and pleasantly ensconced in their own home on Valentine street. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few friends being present.

Mr. Lucas is well known by everybody in Bellefonte, he having lived here for the last four years. He was at one time employed in this office, from where he went to accept a position in the grocery store of Mr. Shuey, which position he still holds. Alfred is an exemplary, steady and industrious young man. The bride, we understand, is a model young lady and possessed of all the qualifications necessary to make home an attraction for any man. The DAILY NEWS joins with many friends in wishing them much happiness in this life.

—The disability pension bill has passed both houses of Congress and is now in the hands of the President for signature. It will be signed and then disabled soldiers will be pensioned from six to twelve dollars per month, without regard to cause of disability, whether before, during or since the war, so it is honorable:

—Hay is being made in some parts of the county, and the grain is fast ripening so that it, too, will soon be ready for the reaper. In the eastern part of the State grain cutting has been going on for several days.

—The question that is now agitating a great many politicians is will all the republican papers in the State support the ticket? As a general thing we think they will, at least enough of them to make sure the election of the nominees.

—We have received a half dozen circulars from the State Board of Health treating on precautions against various diseases. The entire lot can be had by addressing the Board in Philadelphia and enclosing a two cent stamp for return postage.

A LOVELY WOMAN

overheard one say of her, "By Heaven she's painted!" "Yes," retorted she indignantly, "and by heaven only!" Ruddy health mantled her cheek, yet this beautiful lady, once thin and pale, and suffering from a dry, hacking cough, night-sweats, and spitting of blood, seemed destined to fill a consumptive's grave. After spending hundreds of dollars on physicians, without benefit, she tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; her improvement was soon marked, and in a few months she was plump and rosy again,—a perfect picture of health and strength.

This wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery," now world-famed as a remedy for consumption, which is really lung-scrofula, is not only an acknowledged remedy for that terribly fatal malady, when taken in time and given a fair trial, but also for all forms of Scrofulous Skin and Scalp Diseases, as White Swellings, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas and kindred ailments. All scaly, crusty, itching, troublesome eruptions yield readily to its curative powers. It invigorates the liver, enriches the blood and promotes all the bodily functions. It is the only liver, blood and lung remedy, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will do all that it is recommended to, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

$500 REWARD offered for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head, by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Only 50 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

ELIXIR OF LIFE AND HEALTH.

Is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c., produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

A GENUINE TEMPERANCE BEVERAGE,

far surpassing alcohol in any shape as a tonic it might be called

Many of them used by the Indians and the medical profession in the treatment of chills and fevers, rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, neuralgia, headaches, liver complaint, kidney disease, jaundice, gout, piles, boils, skin diseases, &c., &c., too numerous to mention, but easily understood when the action of the Bitters on the vital functions is remembered. The Late Vice President Hendricks Honored of All Men.

A GREAT DEMONSTRATION.

In Which Democrats and Republicans, Mugwumps and Prohibitionists Vied in Paying a Tribute of Love. The Hoosier Poet's Ode.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 2.—The capital city of the Hoosier state and the home of the president of the republic did honor Tuesday to the memory of one of her favorite sons, whose notable career as a statesman was cut short just as his life's work had been rewarded with the second highest office in the gift of the American people. Conspicuous as Thomas A. Hendricks had been in his lifetime in the councils of one political party, there were no politics in the event of the day. The business houses and private residences of the most earnest supporters of the party in power and the warmest friends of President Harrison were decorated just as profusely and with as much taste as those of their political opponents, and in the imposing street demonstration Republicans marched with Democrats, and Prohibitionists with Mugwumps.

No one party was represented in the tens of thousands of dollars that have poured in from every state and territory of the Union toward the erection of the magnificent work of art that adorns the state house grounds, and political differences were forgotten in the salvos of applause that greeted the venerable relict of the deceased vice president as with trembling hand she pulled the rope and exposed to public view the noble features of her illustrious consort. It was the tribute of a city and a state to the citizen and the American, the man rather than to the politician or statesman.

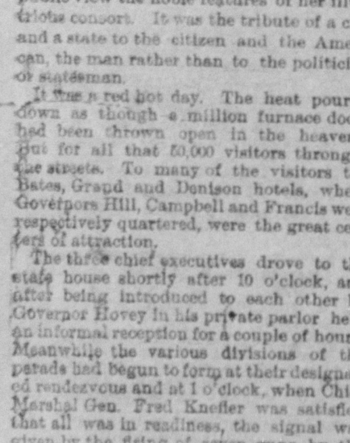
It was a red hot day. The heat poured down as though a million furnace doors had been thrown open in the heavens. But for all that 50,000 visitors thronged the streets. To many of the visitors the Bates, Grand and Denison hotels, where Governors Hill, Campbell and Francis were respectively quartered, were the great centers of attraction.

The three chief executives drove to the state house shortly after 10 o'clock, and after being introduced to each other by Governor Hovey in his private parlor held an informal reception for a couple of hours. Meanwhile the various divisions of the parade had begun to form at their designated rendezvous and at 1 o'clock, when Chief Marshal Gen. Fred Knefler was satisfied that all was in readiness, the signal was given by the firing of seven guns by the veterans stationed at the north side of the Court House square, and the head of the column moved.

The Parade.

The metropolitan police under command of Superintendent Travis led the way, with the chief marshal and staff and mounted escort close in the rear. The first division, commanded by Col. W. J. McKee, was made up of the Second Regiment Infantry Indiana legion, the Indianapolis Light Artillery battery, the Knights of Pythias and the Knights of Honor, and the uniforms of the military with the gay plumage and regalia of the civilians combined to present a brilliant spectacle.

The second division was led by the Hendricks club of Indianapolis, with J. B. Curtis commanding. Its members marched in a square as special escort to the carriage containing Mrs. Hendricks, President Rand, of the Monument association, and Senator Turpie, the orator of the day.



THE HENDRICKS STATUE.

One continuous volley of cheers greeted the venerable widow as the carriage moved slowly from block to block, and Mrs. Hendricks, who looked somewhat pale, but fully composed, smiled and bowed her thanks to the right and left. Behind the carriage in columns of fours were the members of the Young Men's Gray club, Cleveland club and Bynum club, all of Indianapolis.

In the Third division, commanded by James R. Carnahan, were the visiting clubs from Indiana and other states. Following these in the Fourth division were carriages, four abreast, containing Governors Hill, Campbell, Francis and Hovey and their parties; the committees of the Monument association, board of trade, and Commercial club and the judiciary, state, county and city officials.

The fifth division was composed of veteran soldiers' organizations, and the sixth and last of the city and ward organizations of Indianapolis. The sidewalks along the line of march were packed with people, who heartily cheered the visiting governors, the clubs from abroad and the other features of the parade that excited their enthusiasm. Each division had its bands of music, and the numberless flag, banner and other devices that were carried tended to complete a magnificent ensemble.

It was 2 o'clock, despite the fact that owing to the extreme heat the route had been shortened, before the head of the procession reached the State house grounds. Here, almost as far as the eye could reach, the spectators were solidly massed. Fronting the monument a platform had been erected for the speakers and distinguished guests, while to the right was an amphitheatre filled with 500 school children, the majority little girls in white. Company D of the Indianapolis Light Infantry was posted around the upper base of the monument, while the Hendricks club formed a square around the lower base.

The Statue Unveiled.

The appearance of the carriage with Mrs. Hendricks and the visiting governors was the signal for the firing of a salute of nine guns by the light artillery battery and the exercises were forthwith inaugurated with an overture by the band. Then the school children's chorus, led by Professor Henry M. Butler, sang "The Model Republic" with superb effect. Governor A. P. Hovey called the gathering to order in a very few words, extending a hearty welcome to the visitors from abroad and paying a brief tribute to the memory of the man they had met to honor.

He concluded by installing Hon. Frederick Rand, president of the Monument association, as presiding officer. The latter in turn introduced Rev. Joseph S. Jenkes, of St. Paul's church, who led the gathering in prayer. After a selection by the Hendricks Club band President Rand made a succinct historical statement, narrating the circumstances under which the movement for the monument had originated, the amounts contributed by the several states and the total expenditures. The hymn "America" was then sung by the chorus and the audience.

As the last notes died away Mrs. Hendricks rose and gently pulled the rope, causing the canvas to recede and disclose the life sized statue that crowned the pedestal. Applause, loud and prolonged, greeted the successful culmination of the enterprise, while to add to the din a salute of nine guns—one for each letter of the name "Hendricks"—was fired by the battery, and "Columbia" was rendered by the combined bands. When silence had once more been restored the following dedicatory ode, "Hendricks," written by James Whitcomb Riley, was impressively read by Professor Fisher, of Hanover college:

The Hoosier Poet's Tribute.

Pride of thy Westland, and Loved of the Nation!
Leader invincible! Ruler most wise!
Fevered nor flushed by the throng's acclamation,
Steadfastly poised as a star in the skies!
Paths that were night to us
Thou didst make bright to us—
Brightening still, till the transcendent shine,
Swiftly withdrawn from us,
Now thou art gone from us,
Halos thy deeds with a glory divine.

Versed as thou wert in the lore of the ages,
Voiced as a master in lofty debate,
Thine was an eloquence History's pages
Rustlingly whisper in vain to relate.
Mute there the wonderful
Pathos, or thunderful
Flashes of denunciation—not jeers!
Silent the dutiful
Scorn, and the beautiful
Tribute of tremulous sobbing and tears!

Thine, then, the meed of a people's affection
Born above factional wrangle and fray;
Still warmly homed in the heart's recollection,
Naught of thy virtues shall vanish away;
Still in security
Rest, in thy purity
Fixed as thy monument, tow'ring above—
Ay, and outwearing it,
All time declaring it—
Bronze shall outbrave not the legends of love!

Following this "the new national hymn" was rendered by the male chorus, and the battle hymn of the republic by the school children.

Senator Turpie, the orator of the day, upon being introduced paid a most eloquent tribute to the dead statesman, closing as follows:

Senator Turpie's Peroration.

Hendricks was truly a man of varied learning and attainments, full also of that wisdom unborrowed from the schools; patient, kindly, persistent, brave, not distrustful of fortune; willing for the cause which he espoused to put all that men lawfully may to the hazard, and of a fixed fidelity to principle which brooked in its course neither despair nor discouragement. Had he lived in the age of classic antiquity an apotheosis might have followed his demise. In one supremely critical juncture of our national affairs, for many days, like Fabius of old, he walked and safely kept the field of peril, meriting in this the simple yet august degree of the conscript fathers, "He hath deserved well of the republic."

We unveil here today this monumental figure, reminding us of his life and presence in the goodly fellowship of these storied emblems of the administration of law and of history wherein he bore so large a part. His fame depends upon material yet more enduring, the fabric of his words and works, ennobled by the patriotic aims to which they related. For it may well be believed there was something about such a one of that within which passeth show. He had genius—the genius of statesmanship, alike befitting the majestic assemblies and the highest councils of a free people.

To genius belongs the hereafter. In the vast halls of the future its greetings are heard, its audiences are held; posterity throngs to the reception. In their midst it moves, clad with a radiant nimbus of glory, and neither time, nor chance, nor change, nor things past nor present, nor things to come, of whatever moment, may dim or tarnish its unfading splendor.

The orator received an ovation as he retired. "The True Patriot" was rendered by the male chorus, the audience and school children joined in the stirring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," and with the pronouncing of the benediction by Right Rev. Silas Chatard, bishop of Vincennes, the event of the day was brought to a fitting conclusion.

Lawyer Husted's Fearful Fate.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 2.—A. L. Husted, of Clarksburg, one of the leading lawyers of the West Virginia bar and a prominent Republican politician, was struck by a locomotive at Clarksburg and thrown under the wheels. His body was horribly mangled, one arm being torn entirely off. Mr. Husted was one of the most widely known men in the state.

THEIR DOOM IS DEATH.

The Truth About the Intombed Miners Known at Last.

THEY ARE DEAD EVERY ONE.

Dr. Walker Enters the Mine with a Party of Rescuers, and Returns to Tell the Sad Verdict—Then Coffins Prepared. A Scene of Wild Grief.

DUNBAR, Pa., July 2.—The final word has come and the worst is the verdict. The imprisoned miners are all dead. At 4 o'clock Tuesday morning the opening into the Farm Hill mine was completed and the air tested. It was found to contain 20 per cent of black damp. This in the estimation of Superintendent Hill was conclusive evidence that none of the miners would be found living. At 4:15 a. m. all of the rescuing party came out and the huge fans were started to drive out the foul air from the mine to make further explorations possible. The mine inspectors feared that another explosion would occur when the mine gas was driven up to where the fire is yet burning.

At 9 o'clock the fans were slowed down and twenty selected volunteers, headed by Dr. Walker, entered for the purpose of determining the fate of their fellows. Volunteers were plenty, the greatest difficulty being in keeping them outside. District Master Workman Watchorn still contended that there was a chance of finding at least a few of the miners alive. He was, however, almost alone in his belief.

The Sad Verdict.

At noon Dr. Walker came out from the mine and said the miners in the pit of the Hill Farm mine were all dead. The smoke was so dense in the mine ten feet from where the wall was broken into that no one could enter or survive in it. The fans were started again and will be run until it is thought safe to enter, when another effort will be made to enter the mine and take out the bodies.

Thirty coffins have been placed within the entry to the mine and every preparation made for any emergency that may arise. A corps of physicians with an abundant supply of remedies and restoratives are within a moment's call. Nothing more can be done but wait.

An Awful Scene.

Outside on the hillsides surrounding the pit crowds of men, women and children were assembled waiting for the final word, and whep it came the scene was awful to contemplate. Their hopes had been raised so often that they really believed there was some chance of their loved ones being still alive, and the wild despair and heartbreaking sobs and wails that followed Dr. Walker's announcement were appalling.

Rain is falling in torrents and the watchers are thoroughly drenched. This matters not to them. Their interest is so great that they will not leave their places until the bodies of their friends are brought to the surface.

She Shot the Man Who Slandered Her.

PADUCAH, Ky., July 2.—News has just come here of a tragedy in Marshal county Saturday night. Bud Anderson, accompanied by a friend named Lacy Roberts, met Peter McCann, a farmer, at a barbecue, and with pistols pointed at his head compelled him to accompany them to Anderson's house and confront Mrs. Anderson, whom they charged McCann with having slandered. The following morning McCann was found dead with a bullet in his heart. Mrs. Anderson acknowledged having done the shooting, claiming that McCann had lied about her. The persons are all of good standing in the community, and much excitement prevails.

The Women Were as Bad as the Men.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 2.—A band of desperate counterfeiters have been arrested on a shanty boat by United States officers. They had been defying the authorities along the river for weeks, and kept the officers at bay with firearms. Two of the men were surprised while rowing to the boat. Those in the boat were soon captured, including three women, who had shown themselves to be as desperate as the men.

Revolutionists on the Rampage.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 2.—The revolutionary general Sandoval at the head of some sixty men has appeared near Cerralvo, in the state of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, where he seized all arms to be found in a number of ranches, as well as many horses.

BRIEF MENTION.

Thomas Fallon, Jacob Moschele, Thomas Deraney and James Hart, the members of the election board in the First precinct, First district, Jersey City, who have been on trial for a week on an indictment charging them with crookedness at the election last November, were convicted. The jury was out just one hour. Deraney was recommended to mercy.

Charles Scribner began two suits in New York against Ehrich Brothers and Funk & Wagnalls to prevent them from publishing reprints of the "Encyclopedia Britannica" containing "Scribner's Statistical Atlas."

Considerable excitement was occasioned in the Baltimore Ministerial union by Rev. A. C. Dixon announcing that he had reached the conclusion there were but two classes of society in America, "the asses and the masses."

The lottery question was compromised in the Louisiana legislature by the "Antis" agreeing to withdraw all opposition, the question to be decided at primary elections held by white voters alone.

Michael Evgaud, the murderer of M. Couire, who was recently arrested in Havana and brought from that city to Nazaire by French detectives, was placed in prison in Paris.

Rev. Father Mollinger, the faith curist, whose reputation extends throughout the whole United States, is lying at the point of death in Pittsburg.

Governor Beaver appointed John Mills, of Brookville, an associate judge for Jefferson county, Pa., vice Judge Foust, resigned.

Thomas Bailey Aldrich has resigned as editor of The Atlantic Monthly and is succeeded by Horace E. Scudder.

The late Charles M. Da Costa, the New York lawyer, left in his will $100,000 to Columbia college.

HOW THEY FIGURE.

Pattison and Wallace Both Claim Enough Votes to Nominate.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 2.—Although less than one-third of the delegates who are to nominate the Democratic candidate for governor on Wednesday have arrived the Pattison and Wallace managers are figuring majorities for their respective candidates.

The Pattison people are, however, the most enthusiastic and appear to have the most confidence in the result. Ex-Postmaster Harrity, of Philadelphia, who has charge of the Pattison canvass, claims that the ex-governor will be nominated on the first ballot.

Senator Wallace while expressing absolute confidence of winning the nomination believes that there will be several ballots. He says he has no reason to doubt the correctness of his figures and does not think he will have to change them unless it should be to add to them.

Wallace's figures are: Wallace, 225; Pattison, 117; doubtful, 25.

The figures given out by Mr. Harrity are: Pattison, 200; Wallace, 114; doubtful, 54. Necessary for a choice, 184.

There are about nineteen seats to be contested. These will be passed upon by the committee on credentials. Seventeen of the contestants are Wallace delegates. If admitted their votes would have some difference in the count. The fight for the seats promises to be spirited. Both sides are claiming they will have a majority of the committee.

The committee will consist of one member from each senatorial district, making fifty members in all.

Postmaster Harrity says that Pattison will have at least thirty of the fifty members, while George McGowan, who is managing the Wallace end of the committee, asserts that Pattison will not have more than nineteen of the members.

Wants the Fishermen Reimbursed.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 2.—The Rev. Dr. Howley, prefect apostolic at St. George's Bay, has demanded the payment of $10,000 to the fishermen to reimburse them for the loss caused by the French in stopping them from fishing. This payment has been refused by the Newfoundland government, and Dr. Howley has been referred to the Imperial authorities. The prefect will carry his claim to London. It is said that he and Premier Whiteway have had hot words in the matter.

Panitza's Execution.

SOFIA, July 2.—The consent of Prince Ferdinand to the execution of Maj. Panitza was only obtained after his cabinet had threatened to resign. Madam Panitza was not informed of the decision of the court, the first intimation which she received being the announcement of her husband's execution. Princess Clementine was one of those who interceded for mercy to the condemned man.

A Marshal Shot by a Vagrant Negro.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 2.—Joe Keith, town marshal of Childersburg, Ala., was killed by an unknown negro. Keith arrested the negro for vagrancy and was carrying him to the police station when the negro broke away and ran. Keith pursued, when the negro turned on him and drawing a pistol shot the officer three times. The negro escaped.

Went Off with His Niece.

CHICAGO, July 2.—K. G. Schmidt, the president of the K. G. Schmidt Brewing company and a millionaire, has taken a hasty departure from the city with Miss Ellie Schmidt, a niece. He left a wife and four children. He is supposed to have gone to Carlsbad, Austria. He has sent no word whatever to his family.

Gypsies Attacked by Roughs.

BOILER MEN IN SESSION.

Nearly Every Section of the United States and Canada Represented.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The first annual meeting of the American Boiler Manufacturers' association of the United States and Canada began its sessions at the Park Avenue hotel at half-past 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Between two and three hundred members were present, representing nearly every section of the States and Canada.

President James Lappan, of Pittsburg, called the meeting to order and in a felicitous speech welcomed the members. The reading and approving of the minutes of the last session at Pittsburg followed. Secretary A. T. Douthelt, of Allegheny, Pa., presented his report. It was listened to closely by those present and showed the prosperous condition of the association. The report of the committee on manheads and manholes was presented by Joseph F. Wangler, of St. Louis, and that upon safety valves and horse power by C. F. Foster, of the same place.

Among those present were R. Hammond, Buffalo, N. Y.; Philip Rohan, St. Louis, Mo.; George Marshall, Dayton, O.; Christopher Cunningham, Brooklyn; E. D. Meir, St. Louis, Mo.; A. H. Raynal, Richmond, Va.; F. E. Leonard, London, Ont.; Thomas Riter, Pittsburg; William Sellers, Philadelphia; George S. Barnum, New Haven, Conn.; George Bush, Montreal, Can.

The Elder Was Cast Out Instead.

He claims to have the power to heal all manner of diseases and to cast out devils. He was at the home of Miss Ida Swanson, who is dying of consumption, on Monday. The meeting culminated in the elder instead of the devils being cast out. He so wrought upon the feelings of the woman that she screamed like a maniac. The bystanders interfered and forced the apostle to leave the house. Miss Swanson's death is apparently near.

Separated.

Down the road, well known, in soft spring twilight,
Soft I go,
Past the willows by the water
Bending low,
To the cottage gate which once was home
Now I pause and then pass on—alone,
Sad and slow.

Once, the light in yonder window gleaming
Shone for me.
There was one face at the window
Sure to be.
But no hand draws back the curtain's fold.
Am I shivering? Is the night-wind cold?
Yes, cold—cold to me.

Now she waits beside another window far
In God's home
Peeps she through the curtain as of old
Till I come.
Yet I travel miles to pass this little gate
As before—where once she used to wait
I pass alone.

Earthly memories cling about the heart,
Though I know
She is safe in the fair land
To which I go.
Yet—strange fancy—she is near to me
In the place where she used to be,
Which we know

20 to 11 in Favor of the A. R's.

On Saturday afternoon the Bellefonte base ball team—"Silver Grey's,' or something like that, crossed bats with the "Annie Rooney's," on the grounds in the glassworks meadow. The Greys are composed of young men who have frequently been members of clubs; the Rooney's are all young men but have been practicing more than the Greys.

The sides seemed pretty well matched up to the 9th inning when the score stood 12 to 11 in favor of the Rooney's and their turn at the bat. During the last inning they made 9 runs and shut the Grey's out entirely when they came to the bat thus making the score at the close of the game 20 to 11 in their favor. Clell Bamford umpired the game. As for errors, missplays, out of bases, left on bases, etc., they were entirely too many too keep account of. A few brilliant plays were made, but the bad plays were in such great preponderance that it made the game seem very amateurish. Both sides should practice more and play oftener.

My wife takes things too literally.

What has happened?

Well, the other day we had a quarrel and I told her to go to the devil. She got dressed right away and went home to her mother.

Miss Parsons—And so Adam was very happy. Now, Willie, can you tell me what great misfortune befell him? Willie—Please, Miss Parsons, he got a wife.

Visitor (in artist's studio)—This large canvas you have covered with a black, smoky background and put in such a costly frame, I suppose is to be an elegant picture when finished?

Artist (haughtily)—That painting is completed, sir. It's a bird's eye view of Chicago.

'Mamma,' said a little girl as they draggled along in the rain without an umbrella. 'How old is General Greely?' 'Old enough to know better," snapped the mother as she thought of the fair weather predtctions in the morning papers.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear, There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Arsenic and Potash Three Times a Day for Twenty Five Years.

I have been taking S. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and feel it to be my duty to state its results, that others who are similiary affected may profit by my experience, and be relieved of this suffering. I had suffered for a long, long time with what the doctors called Herpes, and eruption of the skin, forming scales and blotches which was horrible to endure. Under the advice of physicians I took 30 drops of Fowler's Solution of Arsenic every day for 25 years besides many other kinds of medicines, without a cure. I have been taking S. S S for about two months, and the eruption and unpleasant symptoms have all disappeared, and I am continuing it to completely root it out of my blood, which I am confident it will do; and what it has done for me I am sure it will do for others, for there are thousands of such cases all over the country which resist all other treatment. I have lived here in my present business for 22 years.

It is rumored that four clubs in the National league, the New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Cleveland, will soon disband. President Day, of the New Yorks, however, says his club will be "in it" to the end of the season.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The Washington Baseball club, by its directors, has made an assignment to A. W. Coleman for the benefit of its creditors. The assets of the club are practically nothing, while its liabilities foot up $38,000. The salaries of the players have not been paid since the first week in June. The club will play the scheduled games until July 5, after which date the future of the club is uncertain.

Killed by Runaway Horses.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 2.—Israel Reiff, a well known distiller, accompanied by James Anheney, a farmer, left this place to drive home. Several hours later the mangled bodies of both men were found lying at the foot of a high embankment. It is believed that they were thrown from their carriage and killed in a runaway accident.

For Rioting and Gambling.

On Tuesday evening four colored young men were brought before 'Squire Foster on a charge of rioting, disturbing the peace and gambling. They waived a hearing and were admitted to bail for their good behavior and appearance at court in the sum of $150 each.

From the evidence given before the Justice the above trouble occurred between 12 and 1 o'clock on Monday night. A crowd had assembled in the house occupied by Joseph Mahew, on the alley back of the old Methodist church, on jail hill, and were drinking and gambling. They all got pretty full when some dispute arose over the game in progress. One word brought on another until the quarrel was generated into a fight and chairs were used as weapons. Cries of murder, police, etc., became quite numerous and the whole neighborhood was aroused. It all ended, however, without any bloodshed. Information was made again them on Tuesday by residents of that locality and their arrest followed with the above recorded results.

Martin, what does this mean? Here you are coming home every night intoxicated?

"I am only trying, sir, to console myself for the loss of my darling wife.

But how long is it going to last?

Ah, sir, she was such a sweet woman I am afraid I am inconsolable.

Lady—So you are a conductor on that railroad which leads to the Great Beyond?

Physician—By no means, ma'am. I am only a brakeman; nothing more, I assure you.

A fool always finds a greater fool to admire him.

What is the most proper exclamation for a man to make when he barks his shins? "Dog gone it."

It frequently turns out that the queen of diamonds is a knave of hearts.

Employer—'Well, Patrick, which is the biggest fool, you or I?' Patrick—'Faith, I couldn't say, sor, but it's not myself.'

Here are the sins that are said to most easily beset mankind in the various ages:

Infancy—Overfeeding.
Childhood—Scanty clothing.
Youth—Late rising.
Manhood—Reckless marriage.
Middle age—Over feeding.
Old age—Scant clothing.

Wife—Why are you rubbing your face so hard John?

Husband (before mirror)—I am trying to remove that dirt spot from my face.

That dirt isn't on your face stupid; it is on the mirror.

A woman has suggested that when men break their hearts it is the same as when a lobster breaks one of his claws—another sprouts immediately and grows in its place.

Mabel (enviously)—Look at that conceited girl how she shows off! Why do you kiss such a creature?

Ethel—Oh, she's awfully painted, and I made a spot on her cheek to show how she's made up.

THE COWBOY KNOWS!

Trying to hold a drove of cattle together in a drenching rain means an amount of exposure which few can withstand without serious results. If sickness does not follow, it will be found that such hardship usually brings on rheumatism and similar complaints. At such times a "Fish Brand Slicker" is worth its weight in gold, and is invaluable to any one exposed to stormy weather. For all saddle rides, you want a Pommel Slicker, which keeps the entire saddle, pommel, and cantle dry, and completely envelopes the rider from head to foot. He can't get wet, whatever the weather. And, besides keeping him dry, it keeps him warm. Every range rider has one. Why shouldn't you? Beware of worthless imitations; every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and Illustrated catalogue free.

Hunger is the Best Sauce.

As a rule, a person who has a good appetite has good health. But how many there are who enjoy nothing they eat, and sit down to meals only as an unpleasant duty. Nature's antidotes for this condition are so happily combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla that it soon restores good digestion, creates an appetite, and renovates and vitalizes the blood so that the beneficial effect of good food is imparted to the whole body. Truly hunger is the best sauce, and Hood's Sarsaparilla induces hunger.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines.

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's.

Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is Peculiar to Itself

Prospects for Harvest.

Despite the fact of there having been too much rain throughout the country, the present outlook for crops is equal to that of any previous year, and when tired from severe toil and fatigue, thy farmer returns to the shady trees, longs for a cool drink of water. He forgets that his life is in danger from the sudden cooling of the system. In the good old times the apple jack and pure old rye were awaiting the return home and why not now? Because you fear the impurities. Let us here say to you that you can get it as pure as ever and at reasonable prices, by the quart or gallon at from $1.50 to $4.00 per gallon, neatly packed and shipped by express. For price list and catalogue of all kinds of liquors just write to Max Klein, 82 Federal St., Allegheny, Pa—t.f.

Charlie: O, my, Billy, how did you come to get that whole custard pie?

Billy: Why, I told sister Clara that unless she got ma to give it to me I'd come into the parlor to-night when her feller comes and study my jografy lesson, and that she knows my jografy lessons are always powerful hard, and it takes me four or five hours to get 'em.

He—'Why do you break off our engagement?' She—'Because pa's dog bit you last night, and I wouldn't run the risk of bringing hydrophobia into the family.'

Grandmother Says:

When she was a girl that her mother always gave her sulphur and molasses to purify her blood, but she now gives Sulphur Bitters to her grandchildren, as it is the best medicine she ever saw.—The Father.

Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health, to use of the Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Hon. James Milliken in Dakota.

From the Black Hill, Dakota Daily Times, we clip the following:

QUAY VICTORIOUS.

From James Milliken of Pennsylvania, who is in the city looking over his large gold mining interests, we learn that the republican State convention at Harrisburg, yesterday, nominated, on the second ballot, Senator Delamater for Governor.

Never in the history of Pennsylvania politics has there been such a contest over a candidate for governor, within the lines of the republican party. Nomination usually implies election. The onslaught on Senator Quay who had, in advance, idicated preference for Delamater, became violent. The democratic press throughout the whole country urged this fight on Senator Quay with a view of ousting him from the chairmanship of the National republican committee. Notwithstanding all this contest, Senator Quay has succeeded in nominating Delamater who is said to be an excellent man, of considerable fortune. The result of the election in Pennsylvania will now be watched with great interest by the party—and all parties—throughout the United States.

SAVAGE TUNNEL.

This property is owned largely by James Milliken of Pennsylvania, at present in this city, who, in a quiet way is pushing the great work, as energetically as possible. Two shifts—day and night are employed. The tunnel is in 1100 feet and will be extended 2000 more, or to a point under Gold Run at the Pierce hoist, at which point it will be 350 feet below the Run.

The Fiery Red Cover.

Of the 4th of July Double Number of the Youth's Companion, just received, is so realistic that one can almost hear the boom of the cannon cracker and the clang of the great Independence Bell. Some of the literary features are, "On His Own Merits," in which a spoiled son wins the battle of life through his own exertions; "Hitty," a boarding school story by Kate W. Hamilton, "Under False Colors," an amusing story of life in a Western lumbering town; "A Little Hero of Lundy's Lane;" "A Fourth of July Cow," by Helen M. North; "He Kept His Flag Up," by C. A. Stephens; "Fourth of July under Difficulties," by James Parton. Besides these are the usual editorials on current events and a jolly page of 4th of July fun for the younger children.

Adulterating.

Mr. Alfred Speer, of Paesaic, N J., having noted the want of a strictly pure and a first class wine, has for the past thirty years devoted his time and capital to raising the Oporto Grape from the vine brought from the Doura valley in Portugal, with the view to supplying this want; that he has been eminently successful, the endorsements which his Port Grape Wine has received from physicians all over this country and in Europe with testify.

THE CANDIDATES.

George Wallace Delamater the Nominee for Governor.

George Wallace Delamater is comparitively a young man. He was born at Meadeville, Crawford county, Pa., on March 31, 1839. He comes from an old and prominent family in this country. Claude De La Maitre, from whom he is descended, emigrated in 1652 from Holland, where he had sought refuge from religious persecution, and took up his residence in New Amsterdam, now New York. His maternal ancestry is traced back for nine generations in this coun-

William Towne, was a descendent from that branch of the family, and the late Schuyler Colfax from the Delamater branch. At all times the Delamater family has furnished honorable names for the records of the country.

Mr. Delamater's father, George B. Delamater, is well known in the border counties of the State He represented the Crawford and Erie disirict in the State Senate with considerable credit at the age of 20. Deciding to adopt the law as a profession, he soon after his graduation entered Haryard Law School and continued his studies in the office of H. L. Richmond & Sons at Meadville. He was admitted to the Crawford county bar and devoted three years to the active and exclusive practice of his profession. After that he engaged in various business enterprises to which he has since devoted his time and energy with considerable success.

He is a member of the banking house of Delamater & Co., director of the Merchants' National Bank, president and controlling stockholder of the Meadville and Linesville Railway Company, president of the Meadville Fuel Gas Company and connected with various other local enterprises.

Mr. Delamater has always been a Republican and active in promoting his party's interests. He was elected Mayor of Meadville in 1876. He was a Senatorial delegate to the State Convention in 1878 and chairman of the Republican county Committee during the campaigns of 1878 and 1879. In 1880 he was chosen a Garfield Presidential elector for Pennsylvania. He was elected to the State Senate in 1886.

In the Senate he was not an unimportant figure. He was successively chairman of the committee on banks and banking and a member of the committees on finance, judiciary general, railroads and others of less importance.

Personally Senator Delamater has made an agreeable impression on the people he has met. He has a good looking face and an easy manner and is a good talker. He has wielded a strong influence in the northwestern counties, where his standing first won for him the recognition and powerfu friendship of Senator Quay.

He came to this country with his parents when an infant, and has resided at Norristown ever since. Three times during the war of the rebellion he tried to enter the army, but was twice rejected on account of his age. The third time he joined Company C, One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Pennsylvania Volunteers, and served until the close of the war. He has been Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic and prominent in the National Guard of this State. He was elected to the lower house of the Legislature from Montgomery county in 1884 and in 1886 was elected to the position for which he is now a candidate for re-election.

A pass issued Wednesday to a bridal party over the Jacksonville, St. Augustine & Halifax Railroad, gotten up especially for the occasion read as follows:

It is now certain that Corbin will retire from the Presidency of the Reading, and that McLeod will be his successor.

A NOTABLE RACE.

From 1840 until a few years ago there was great rivalry between the famous steamboats plying the mighty Mississippi. On June 30, 1870, one of the most exciting and notable events in the annals of steamboating occurred, namely, the great race between the R. E. Lee and Natchez. For weeks before the above date the crews of both boats had been preparing for the race. When they started the eyes of the country were upon them, so to speak; for nearly four days the race was kept up. The boats left the levee at New Orleans at 4 p m on June 30. The Lee landed at the wharf in St. Louis on July 4, at 11.25 a m, having made the run, including landings, from New Orleans to St. Louis in three days twenty hours and twenty-five minutes, beating the Natchez six hours. The distance is 1,170 miles. The steamer White had the best recorded time previous to the above race The time of the Lee has never been beaten. Mississippi boats are not constructed for speed latterly, and its possible the fast time made by the R. E. Lee will never be beaten. Al. G. Field, the minstrel man, has had his first part arranged to give an illustration of this famous boat race. The start from New Orleans, with a view of Canal street with its foliage, parks, fountains and buildings. The start of the two boats is a realistic scene representing a midnight race on the Mississippi. The interior of the grand cabin of the R.E. Lee will be one of the prominent scenes, represented by beautiful scenery. Two phases of minstrels will be portrayed in this scenic first part. On the lower deck of the R. E. Lee will be given a real old-time plantation minstrel festival. In the spacious cabin will be rendered a program of modern day or refined minstrels. This is certainly a decided innovation in minstrelsy, and its reception by the public will be awaited with interest.

This famous minstrel company has already engaged to be at the new opera house on the 8th of April 1891.

'I think that's a very pretty piece of music," he remarked, self complacently, after he had thrummed away at the piano for fifteen minutes.

'Which part did you like best?'

'The part you didn't play,' replied the fair girl, and he went forth into the world, for he knew he hadn't the ghost of a chance there.

'Well, Mrs. Brown, how does your daughter get along on the piano?

'Law sakes, Mrs. Jones! You know I ain't no musician myself, but I heard her teacher say only yesterday, 'Emma, my child, you're quite ten bars ahead!' so she must be making some progress, mustn't she?'

Not in need of it. Physician [reflectively]—'H'm! The case is one, I think that will yield to a mild stimulant. Let me see your tongue, madam, if you please'

HOW ANIMALS EAT.

Man Has Thirty-two Teeth, the Hog Forty-four and a Southern Fish 222.

Man is the only animal that has teeth—incisors canines and molars—of an equal height Man, the ape and nearly all ruminants, have thirty-two teeth. The hog; however, is better than this and has forty-four. So has the opossum and mole. The river dolphin of South America lays far beyond this however, having no less than 222 teeth. Teeth are no part of the skeleton, but belong to the adpendages like skin and hair.

The sturgeon is toothless and draws its food by suction, but the shark has hundreds of teeth set in rows that sometimes number ten.

Lobster and crabs masticate their food with their horny jaws, but they have also sets of teeth in their stomachs, where they complete the work of chewing. But there is a peculiar kind of crab called the king or horseshoe crab, which chews its food with its legs, This is an actual fact, the little animal grinding its morsels between its thighs before it passes them over to its mouth.

The jelly fish absorbs its food by wrapping itself around the object which it seeks to make its own. The starfish is even more accommodating. Fastening itself to the body it wishes to feed on, it turns its stomach inside out and enwraps its prey with this useful organ.

Dogs seize their food with their jaws cats with their feet, and so do monkeys some of them pressing their tails into service. The squirrel uses its paws to carry its food to its mouth, the elephant its trunk, the giraffe, ant eater and toad their tongues.

Spiders chew their food with horny jaws, which are sharp enough to give quite a nip.

Grasshoppers and locusts are very well provided with the necessary machinery for eating much and often. They have saw like jaws and gizzards, too, the latter being fitted out with horny teeth.

The caterpillar feeds with two saw edge jaws, working transversely, and uses them to such good advantage that he eats three or four times his own weight every day.

Toads, tortoises, turtles, and most lizards have no teeth. Frogs have teeth in their upper jaw only. And eaters, sloths, and armadillos have no teeth.

The lion and the tiger, and, indeed, most of the carnivora, do not grind their food, using their jaws only up and down, the molars acting like chopping knives, or, rather, scissors. Their mouths, in fact, are a veritable hash mill,

The butterfly pumps nectar into itself through a tube, and flies suck up their food with a long tongue or proboscis.

The spider's mouth is quite a complicated affair. It has fangs for holding its prey, masticatory organs for bruising its solid food, and a sucking apparatus for taking up the liquids. Quite as complicated is the mouth of the mosquito which consists of the lances, the saws, and the pumping tubes.

The leech has three saws, with which it does good service in the phlebotomy line.

The woodpecker has a three barbed tongue, like a Fijian's spear, with which it has excited by its tappings.

The clam feeds with a siphon and the oyster with its beard.

Mrs. Dusky—"Am dem de black stockings' you told me 'bout buyin'?"

Miss Saffron—"Yes, dem is de ones, Cicely; an' dey only cos' seventy five cents."

"Am dey silk?"

"Not 'zactly, but dey're jes as good!"

"An'will dey wash."

"Dat I don' know, I'se only had em fo weeks."

'Going to America, Pat?'

'Yis, sor; an' I've got to git there soon, too.'

'Why so?'

'Me cousin in Chicago has had me nominated as alderman, an' I must leave Ireland in time to take me sate in the common council.'

Shoe Dealer [to young widow, who is hauling over a pile of ladies' slippers]—Are you looking for number two, ma'am?

"Pennsylvania Reserves' Day at Gettysburg.

The State Commission in charge of the regimental memorials on the battlefield of Gettysburg have fixed on Grand Army week, the last of August and the beginning of September, for a special reunion and celebration by the veterans of the "Pennsylvania Reserves." This is a just tribute to that famous organization. It was the only body of State Volunteers that maintained intact its original form, and under the impulse given to it by Governor Curtin, and with such generals as Ord, Meade, Reynolds, Seymour and the long list of its own distinguished field and brigade officers, it won for itself and for the State of Pennsylvania the highest praise for gallantry, devotion and discipline. The last Division Commander was S. W. Crawford, and among its best known Colonels were the gallant McCandless, Bruce Ricketts, Dick, and on its rolls were many who were promoted to other commands. The esprit de corps of the old 'Reserves' has always been maintained, and they are entitled to this and every honor.

The State Commission is rapidly completing its work, and will no doubt, present an exhaustive and final report to the next Legislature. "Pennsylvania Day" last year was a memorable occasion, and "Pennsylvania Reserves Day" this year will, undoubtedly, call together a thousand or more of the veterans who still proudly cherish their memories of their services in the old division. Such a tribute emphasizes the peculiar relation it bore alike to the State which organized it and to the United States, which gladly welcomed it as part of its great army of volunteers. There can be no better page in the record of the State's share in the war for the Union than that which shall tell the story of the creation of the Pennsylvania Reserves Division, of its long, arduous and admirable service, of its splendid roll of honor, of its veterans who have won distinction in civil life, and of its glorious past. The reunion of its members at Gettysburg on a day specially set apart for them will be the crowning success of the series of historical gatherings on that field of the great turning point of the war for the Union.

Weak Women,

The more sensitive nature of the feminine sex renders women much more susceptible than men to those numerous ills which spring from lack of harmony in the system. The nervous system gives way, sick headache is frequent, the appetite is lost, and other ailments peculiar to the sex cause great suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for such cases, and has received the most gratifying praise for the relief it has afforded thousands of women whose very existence before taking it was only misery. It strengthens the nerves, cures sick headache and indigestion, purifies and vitalizes the blood, and gives regular and healthy action to every organ of the body. j 5-m

The Purest and Best

Articles known to medical science are used in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every ingredient is carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. The medicine is prepared under the supervision of thoroughly competent pharmacists, and every step in the process of manufacture is carefully watched with a view to securing in Hood's Sarsaparilla the best possible result.

Still Finding Bodies at Johnstown.

Although it is now almost thirteen months since the terrible disaster at Johnstown, bodies are still being found there. The Tribune of that city said last evening.

"While prodding with a stick in the mud along the Stonycreek river at the foot of Main street to day a man discovered a human body. The search force was notified and the body was taken out of the ground and removed to the morgue. There samples of the clothing were washed and as close an examination as possible blemad of the remains. Several persons called at the morgue while the body was there in the hope of indentifying it. Among the visitors was Mr. Dwight Roberts, cashier of the Citizens' National bank He was at once convinced that the remains were those of his mother and subsequently confirmed in his opinion by Luckhardt, the jeweler, who recognized the gold spectacles found with the body as a pair purchased by Mrs. Roberts at his father's store before the flood. The clothing was also positively indentified by Mrs. Emma Lee. Mrs. Roberts will be laid to rest by her husband and son Otis in Grand View, the former's body having been found soon after the flood and that of the latter a month ago.

"Another body was found at the stone bridge at a late hour this afternoon. It has not yet been taken out and the sex is unknown."

A Haunted House.

This body of ours has been likened to a tenement. It often has a haunted apartment—the stomach, Scared by the eldrich sprite, dyspepsia, digestion flies and refuse to return. What can break the spell, what can raise the ban laid upon the unhappy organs? We answer unhesitatingly Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and we are warranted in the responce by the reccorded testimony of myraids, covering a period of over a third of a century. A course of the Bitters, begun in any stage of the affliction, and presistently followed, will terminate in cure positive, not partial. The Bitters restore tone to the epigastric nerve, renews and purifies the juices exuding from the cellular tissue that act upon the food digestively, expels bile from the stomach and the blood, and promotes a regular habit of body. Malaria, kidney complaint, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia give way to headache. Jl 6

Will Hoffer Now an Editor.

We copy the following from the Brown County World, published at Hiasatha, Kansas:

Next week Mr. Will Hoffer, of Atchison, will commence work as an editorial assistant on the World. Besides being a very able newspaper worker he is a good young man and is superintendent of one of the largest Sunday schools in Atchison, that of the Lutheran church.

This is only one more illustration of the ability of Centre county young men. Mr. Hoffer is yet a young man, was born at Boalsburg, this county, and did his first newspaper work in this office where he started at the bottom of the ladder—that of the "devil." The position he has now accepted is one of considerable responsibility but we have not the least doubt but that Will will size up to the proper level, as he is a bright young man.

ALUMNI DAY.

The Third Day of the State College Exercises—Crowds in Attendance.

The programme for to-day stated at the annual meeting of the Alumni would be held in the College chapel at 8.30 and precisely at that time the meeting was called to order by the president of the association and the usual routine of business gone through with.

An artillery salute of twenty (20) pieces was to be given but on account of the extreme illness of Mrs. Mitchell, wife of Postmaster Mitchell, this part of the programme was dispensed with much to the disappointment of those persons who were assemble on the campus to witness the event.

At 10 a. m. the annual meeting of the Trustees of the college was held and a great deal of work of much importance accomplished, at this time came the great event of the day the Alumni dinner on the programme for 12 o'clock but it was fullp 12:30 when the members of the faculty, their wives and children, the alumni and some others, headed by Pres. Atherton and Hon. Jno. H. Orvis of Bellefonte marched from the College building to the fine new armory, which has just been completed, where an elaborate dinner had been prepared, for three hundred under the management of Mr. Byron C. Achenbach the popular caterer of Bellefonte who must of necessity applied much talent and taken great pains to secure such results. Everything was prepared and served in magnificant style and the way in which the dinner was enjoyed by those partaking spoke more forcibly than words can of Mr. Achenbachs skill in this line.

After attending to temporal wants and supply in the "ormer man" speech making was in order. How Francis Jordan of Harrisburg, was master of ceremonies and after a few introductory remarks he called upon Messrs. W. S. Bullock, A. J. Kaufman and Jno. M Banks, in the order named to respond to the sentiment of "The First Graduating Class" which they did and in short concise addresses amused their audience for a short time.

"The College and the State" was then responded to by Hon. John A. Woodward, of Howard, Pa., with much force and eloquence. Col. Young responded to "The College and the Industries of the State in well chosen language.

The College and the Public Schools by D. F. Fortney was announced by the President at this time and Mr. Fortney responded with one of his typical addresses combining force reason and argument in his address.

"The Present Graduating Class" what it has been, what it is, and what it will be was the toast to which Messrs. H. P. Leyden and G. S. Dunning answered in pleasing speeches for several minutes. "The College, Then, and Now." by the Rev. Dr. Calder an ex-president of the Penna State College was now responded to, in a short address by that gentleman, and which was followed by "informal toasts by judge Heister and Moses Thompson with which the most successful of all former occasions of the same nature, in the opinion of many.

The election of Prof. D M Wolf was made without his knowledge or consent and it is a question whether he will accept it. It would be a blessing for the Bellefonte schools could he be induced to do so as no better man for the position could be found in the State.

—Why don't the Bellefonte band inaugurate a series of serenades to be given on the street say about twice a week? Have erected a band stand down town and up about the diamond; have some disinterested party go around with a subscription paper and raise a fund to remunerate the band for its services. In this way the band would be financially benefitted and the people be relieved of the dreadful quiet that generally abounds.

Editor and Business Manager.

Local Department.

—Is it going to rain to day, or is it just xing up for the 4th of July?

—Mr. Will Cowdrick and family will move to Johnstown this week.

—On last Friday the widow of Alfred Andrews gave birth to a girl baby.

—Philipsburg wants a bath house. It is about time they were washing up out there.

—The commencement exercises of the State Normal School at Lock Haven are in progress this week.

—Our "Devil" would like to know what sign it is to dream of seeing snakes. An answer is anxiously awaited.

—The version is now changed. Instead of "Where did you get that hat?" 'tis "where did you leave that hat?"

—Since the "Original package" bill has been sustained milk shakes have gone out of date in such places as Lock Haven.

—The new Garman opera house is beginning to assume shape of a very modern playhouse. It will be a good house when finished.

—What a giddy girl little Annie Rooney must have been. Every young man you meet now a days sings "She was my sweetheart."

—Have you been counted? If not now is the time to make a fuss about it. Send your name to the enumerator or forever after hold your peace.

—Mr. C. H. Moore, formerly of Milesburg, is now stationed at Kane, where he is general manager of the Singer Sewing machine branch office.

—A party of young folks who went picnicing on Saturday evening almost broke the Sabbath as they did not get back till after 12 o'clock that night.

—In Altoona the policemen have taken to shooting all the dogs found in the streets without their owner. How would such a proceeding work in this place.

—Peter Keichline tried to send up a balloon on Monday evening. After one or two burning up for him he succeeded in getting one to go up but it did not sail far.

—Bellefonte is given all the honor in the 4th of July parade at Williamsport Company B, leads the procession and the Undine Hose Company leads that part of it.

—General D. H. Hastings, with his family and company, picniced at the Cave in Penns Valley on Saturday. They had a pleasant day there but got wet before they got back home.

—An increase of pension has been granted to Charles F. Heischel, of Blanchard; and a pension has been granted to Harriet F., widow of Roland C. Bowles, of Moshannon.

—A lad of about fourteen years of age has turned post office thief in Philipsburg. He robbed the post office boxes several times before he was caught at it. He now languishes in prison.

—Rev. Ziegler has cultivated the flower beds at the Pennsylvania railroad depot and planted the same with choice plants, so that it won't be many days now until it will seem like the eden of a year ago.

—The Union temperance service of song held in the Presbyterian church was attended by a large congregation. The music was well selected and beautifully rendered. The speeches made were interesting as well as instructive.

—We are under obligations to Prof. W. F. Beck, of Lock Haven, for a copy of his General Hastings March. The music is good and designed for medium players. It will no doubt become very popular both because of its merits and because of its name.

—But didn't it rain on Saturday night? It came down by the barrelsful tubfuls and bucketfuls. The gutters overflowed and the streets looked like small rivers. In some places deep holes were washed in the street and ditches.

—On Monday Officer Foulk arrested Mrs. Thomas Welsh on a charge of Adultery and Calvin Miller (colored) as her associate, and lodged them in jail to await their trial. If left alone Joshua will soon have Bellefonte rid of such characters.

—Grain is already being cut in some parts of the county, and it won't be many days hence until the harvesting will be general everywhere. It may not be out of place to just here add that the crop this year is an excellent one in all parts of the county.

—The delegates to the Democratic State Convention to assemble in Scranton tomorrow departed to day from Bellefonte We do not know whether James Schofield is a delegate or not, but he went down and, we think, he intends making the nominating speech for some one.

—On Monday the Logan machine works and Foundry were moved from their old location in the rear of the McClain Block to the carworks. They will now have more room to turn around in, as their old location was entirely too small for their large and growing business.

ON THE MOUNT.

What the Snow Shoeites Are Doing This Hot Weather.

What is our model government? Our Congress? Supreme Court? are they for the purpose of hindering and discouraging respectful communities, that are trying to wipe out the curse of rum, by such acts as the "Original package" decision? Will they set with their arms folded like a lot of mummies and allow that hydra-headed monster, the Louisiana Lottery, to use the United States mails with which to make gamblers of our young men and rob the nation of millions every year? For shame, ye law makers!

There was quite an excitement in our usually quiet town last Thursday evening. A very clever individual, with a slick tongue and nimble fingers, and a surplus of five and ten dollar bills, sold jewelry on our street corners. Oh, but he could talk slick! If you don't believe it ask Alf Thompson, Johnnie Kelly, Cal Pownell, Alf Peters, and several others, who bought worthless rings for $3, expecting to find ten dollar bills when they opened their packages but found instead some very wholesome advice printed on little slips of paper.

Mr. Thomas Pearson, an aged miner, who has only been in this country a couple of months, had his hand badly smashed by a fall of coal in No 2 mine on Friday morning.

The Beech Creek tressle is sadly in need of repairs. Quite a gang of carpenters have commenced work on it. Some of the timbers are badly decayed and it is a wonder that it carries the heavy coal trains that pass over it daily.

Grant Kessling and wife returned last week from Cameron where they had been on a visit to Mr. Kessling's sister, Mrs. Frank Halderman.

J. I. Yarnell and John G. Uzzle, two of Snow Shoe's prominent citizens, attended the Republican State convention last week.

Mr, Frank Silknitter, who has been living in Pittsburg for some time, is at home on a visit.

Mr. John Sorokosh and Miss Mary Krisilik were married on last Thureday by the Rev. Father Kohl, of the St. Marys Catholic church.

Mr. Henry Kech wears a very broad smile all over his face. A little stranger has lately come to town and has made its home at the Kech residence. It is a girl.

There arrived, one day last week, a comely looking jewess from Russia, and now Abe Robinson says if he catches any young man casting loving glances at his new girl he will make it warm for him; as he cannot afford to bring girls all the way from Russia and allow them to get married right away,

Misses Mary Miller and Mary Gorman, who have been attending the deaf and dumb school in Philadelphia, returned home on Wednesday evening. Miss Gorman has graduated.

Mr. James G. Lucas, who is past three score and ten years of age, and lives on his farm near Sugar Camp mines, was married to his housekeeper, Mrs. Sayers, on Sunday. Quite a number from Snow Shoe attended the wedding.

Death has been in the midst of us during last week and took away a mother's darling, aged seventeen months, the daughter of Mrs. D G Miller, who has been spending the summer with her cousins, the Misses Stewart. The child, naturally delicate, was taken very sick on Thursday afternoon and, after suffering with convulsions for twenty four hours, it died about 10 o'clock on Friday night. Mr. Samuel Dixon, assisted by undertaker Harris, of Bellefonte, embalmed the remains. The afflicted mother is anxiously waiting to hear from her husband, who is traveling through western states, and, though she receives a letter from him every day, she has been unable to reach him by telegraph and up to a late hour Saturday evening he had not been informed of his sad affliction.

Mrs. Anna Williams, wife of Daniel Williams, died about seven o'clock on Saturday evening after a long and severe illness. Mr. Williams, who is in very needy circumstances, has quite a large family of now motherless children left to his care. Mr. Williams is indeed entitled to much sympathy in his sad bereavement. The funeral took place on Tuesday. Interment was made in the Askey graveyard.

Two Deaths.

On Saturday afternoon, at her home in Eagleville, Mrs. Quigley, the wife, of Capt. J. A. Quigley, and mother of H. C. Quigley, of this place, died of consumption. Mrs. Quigley has been a sufferer of that dread disease for a long time and her death, though sad, was not unexpected. The funeral occurred on Sunday, interment being made at Beech Creek.

A dispatch was received in this place Monday afternoon announcing the sudden death of Mr. J. J. Yokey, at Valley Falls, Kansas, which occurred that morning. Mr. Yokey will be remembered by many persons in Bellefonte. About four years ago he was the miller for Garbrick, Hale & Co., at their mill in this place. He went from there direct to Kansas. He was married to a sister of Mr. G. W. Rees, of this place. We were not able to learn the cause of his death. The remains were taken to Harrisburg for interment.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Hay Fork Falls on a Young Man Injuring Him so Badly that He Dies.

On Saturday afternoon Elmer Lutz, a 20-year-old son of John Lutz, while assisting to take in hay on his father's farm near Axe Mann, was so seriously injured by the fall of a hay fork that he died shortly afterwards.

The particulars of the sad affair, as far as could be learned, as follows. The young man was on the wagon handling the fork which was a double harpoon. He had fastened a load of hay and it was being pulled up when the rope broke and the fork fell striking him. The one prong ran in his right limb severing the main artery. Aid was at once summoned but before it arrived the young man was dead, having only lived ten minutes after the fall of the fork.

Distinguished Visitors.

In Company with Hon. E. W. Martin, a representative of the Pioneer called on Messrs, Milliken and Forbes at the Wentworth House last evening and were delightfully entertained. The gentlemen are the principal owners of the Savage tunnel and group of valuable mines belonging thereto. Mr. Milliken's home is in Penbsylvania, and he has an intimate acquaintance with the politicians and public men, not only of his own state, but of the nation, is deeply interested in public affairs and a most interesting and fluent conversationalist. He has sufficient wealth to permit indulgence of his taste for literature and politics, and as he has no personal ambitions to gratify, thoroughly enjoys it. Mr. Forbes' home is in Paris, but a greater portion of his time is spent in New York City and other portions of the States in which he has property interests. He is not much given to politics but is an educated and refined gentleman and a most pleasing companion.—From the Dead wood (Dakota) Pioneer, of July 27.

The Great Divide's Mid-Summer Art Issue.

Stanley Wood's Great Divide for July will be the handsomest number of this standard journal ever issued, it being the mid-summer art number. It will contain seventy illustrations, especially prepared for it, to make room for which the size of the paper has been increased to twenty pages. In addition to this there will be an art supplement, in nine colors, of a Zuni Indian water carrier. This characteristic and striking picture is worth more than the price of the journal and is well worthy of framing. To those wishing to subscribe, the July number will be sent, as a sample copy on receipt of ten cents. Address The Great Divide, Denver, Colorado.

Dollars a Foot Long.

You would be amused to see the silver dollars that compose the stock of the Government assayer at the Treasury building. Each one of them is about a foot long, of a narrow oval shape, and perforated with hundreds of little round holes. Such is the form they appear in after being rolled out thin and punched with a machine. They are sent in from the mints as specimens, taken at random from every fresh lot made, and it is the duty of the assayer to find out whether these samples are of the weight and fineness required by law.—Washington Star,

Centre Hall Items.

While your correspondent was in this place on Thursday he took dinner with the new landlord, Mr. David Bartges. Mr. B. is a pleasant, agreeable and intelligent gentleman and his house now ranks second to none.

The Luse Brothers, of this place, are running a planing mill, which is located near the R. R. depot. They turn out first class work.

The Centre Reporter printing establishment is moving onward and upward. They now run their presses by a water moter.

—Why isn't that Bicycle Club organized? There are enough wheelers to be seen to make up a fair sized one. There is Ed. Chambers, Esq., who could attend to all the legal business; Chas. T. Noll, who could act as electrician; Geo. T. Bush, who could furnish the stationery, Ed. Garman, well, Ed could furnish anything in the furnishing line, and Prof. Bonbright could furnish the lung power. It would make a well equipped and very talented club, all that would be needed to make it a perfect club would be to become good cyclers. Try it once, gentlemen, and see how it will go.

Hastings and Curtin.

The Inquirer notes with great satisfaction that Ex-Governor Curtin spoke at the meeting of citizens that welcomed General Hastings home at Bellefonte after his defeat for Governor, and declared that he would have voted for Hastings if nominated.

Curtin could hardly have done less than support Hastings had he been nominated, as Hastings manfully supported Curtin for Congress when Democrats sought to defeat him. Curtin believes in such friends as Hastings more than he believes in any party of the present day.—Philadelphia Times.

The Sentiment at Howard.

"Forgeman" in the Tyrone Herald, writes as follows about the gubernatorial situation and the Silver Bill:

Another reason for not writing is the scarcity of news in the market. Of course I might write a whole batch of stuff about the defeat of General Hastings, but that would not be news, as everybody knows it already. But there is one thing that everybody don't know, but will learn as they grow in days and months and years, and that is, when Col. Quay and Delamater got the inside track on the "tall sycamore of the Bald Eagle," they side-tracked for a time only, one of the best, ablest, bravest and noblest men on the American continent. This may, to some, look a little strong, but is as mild as I can put it. His reception at his home in Bellefonte after the convention will bear me out. It was like Barnum's show, the "biggest thing on earth. Or I might "elucidate" on the great hubbub they are kicking up in Washington on the silver bill, but then there is nothing in it. If they are afraid to mould the silver into daddy dollars and send them out on their mission, why the dickens don't they send it to us in the pig. Then we could make pruning hooks and plow shares with it, and save our swords and bayonets for the next war. This fight on the silver bill is about as interesting as driving a hog along a stake and rider fence. If you ever drove one home from a public sale you will get at my meaning.

But if I keep on I will have a letter out of this thing. In the meantime, as soon as I get properly riveted together, I will vigorously open the campaign for Delamater and the Republican ticket.

Our Daniel in the den was thrown.
The lions simply sat there.
It won't be long, the day will come
When he'll come out and get there.

—Candidates are thick as flies just before a rain storm. On Monday Murray, of State College, and Stevens, of Half Moon, talked with Strohm, the commissioners' clerk, over the probable outlook for the nominees for county commissioner. On Tuesday W. Gaylor Morrison peeped through the door of the recorder's office and looked with longing eyes at the chair that recorder Harter was nobly keeping down. The out-of-town candidates come to Bellefonte to electioneer and the town candidates go to the country. Every other man one meets nowadays is a candidate, of one or the other party, and strange to say, everyone thinks he is going to get there. Well, it is better so; taste the sweets as long as possible and when the bitter gall of defeat comes then drink to the dregs. Such is the life of a politician—both local, state and national.

Letter List.

Following is the list of unclaimed letters remaining in the post office at Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., June 30, 1890:

Mr Joseph Burd, Mr Daniel W Green, W R Gardner, Mrs F Jones, Miss Clara Krader, Mr George Lesslie, Mary A Martin, Mr Charlie Martz, Mr Charlie McNeile, Mrs Catharina Millard, Mr James L Newberry, Mrs Catharine D Prill, Bert Rosenstell, Mr M Stover, Mr N J Shinefield, Mrs Mary Weaver.

Persons enquiring for letters named in the above list will please say advertised. J. A. FIEDLER, P. M.

—The attractions of the legal profession to the recent graduate are unparalleled. Ten young men have entered the dismal portals of the law in the last few weeks in this place. The motto of the inferno should be over the entrance to the Bar: "Leave all hope behind, ye who enter here." But our young friends are unaffected by the prospects before them. They are full of hopes and ambition. Their youthful, rosy, smiling faces are great contrasts to the dark grave, hungry looking countenances of the full fledged attorneys. They have our best wishes for the future.

—The Lutheran social will meet this Thursday evening, July 3, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer, on Curtin street. The usual refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, fruit, lemonade, etc., will be served. At that time the moon will be just about full and the evening will undoubtedly be a lovely one so that there is no reason why everybody in Bellefonte should not attend.

—In the general statement of salaries of postmasters which is just now going the rounds of the papers the figures given for Bellefonte and Bedford should be transposed. Bellefonte's allowance is 2200 and Bedford's $1700. Tyrone's allowance is $2000. Altoona's postmaster gets $2700; Huntingdon, $2400; Hollidaysburg, $1600; Houtzdale, $1600; Philipsburg, $1900.

—John Andrew Collins Love, having finished a year of hard study at State College, will to morrow assume the position of Clerk in A. M. Wooden's store. It will be no new experience for John, as he has filled the same post before, to the complete satisfaction of his employers and their customers.

—The counting of the vote to decide which school teacher shall be entitled to a trip to Europe offered by the Philadelphia Press to the most popular teacher in Pennsylvania, New Jersey or Delaware was finished Tuesday. The fortunate one was Miss Jennie M. Davis, of Philadelphia, who received 299,025 votes. Miss Maria H. Bishop, of Williamsport, came next with 222,831 votes; Miss Elizabeth H Grant was third, her vote 207,252. Over one million vote were received altogether.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Maitland, of Williamsport, arrived in Bellefonte on Monday evening for a short visit at their respective homes in this place.

Mr. David J. Gates, a dyed-in-the wool democrat of Half Moon township, was in Bellefonte on Saturday looking up friends and discussing politics.

Mr. J. H. Lambert, of the Philadelphia Press, who spent a few days at the residence of Adjutant General Hastings, in this place, departed for Philadelphia Monday morning.

Col. Lambert, managing editor of the Philadelphia Press, and Mr. Saxon, one of the committee of one hundred, in Philadelphia, are both guests of Adjutant Gen. Hastings.

Mr. Boyd A. Musser, the young law student who recently passed a creditable examination, departed on the Tuesday afternoon train for his home at State College where he will remain one week.

Mr. Clement Dale departed on Tuesday evening for Philipsburg where he has a little legal business to attend to after which he will give himself up to the enjoyment of a few days vacation. He will also visit Clearfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Harper, returned last week from Atlantic City, where they spent three weeks watching the billows roll and the gay, fashionable society enjoy itself. They say it is just delightful on the sands now.

Mr. A. J. Miller, of Millheim, Pa., is now at his brothers's at Axe Mann, resting himself and trying to recruit his health. He received a serious fall a few weeks ago and since that time has been feeling very badly.

Mr. William Jones returned from Harrisburg on Thursday evening. We don't believe the story as circulated that Mr. Jones remained in Harrisburg thinking that Delamater would refuse to accept the nomination and that he would then have an opportunity to cheer for Hastings.

Mr. Miles Kephart went to watch a game of base ball on last Friday evening. We are not informed whether he was acting as backstop or some other stop, bnt be that as it may, he managed to stop a ball that struck him in the left side, but Miles says he won't play that position again, not if he knows it.

The Thistle Law.

A few days ago the NEWS published a notice to citizens to cut down all Canada thistles. The following is an abstract from the laws of Pennsylvania bearing on the thistle question:

"It shall be the duty of land owners to prevent Canada thistles from going to seed, and the seed of the same from ripening. Penalty for neglect a fine of $15, one half to the County Treasurer, and the other to the proceeding informer. Parties (i e neighbors) aggrieved may give five days notice, and on continued neglect it shall be lawful for the former to enter the premises and cut down the said thistles, or hire others to do so, and such aggrieved person so doing may sue and recover from the landholders $2 00 per diem for so doing."

REV. MR. HICKS PROPHECIES.

What He Has to Say About the Outlook for Weather in July.

Rev. I. R. Hicks, of St. Louis, sends out the following weather prophecy for July:

The month ought to begin with moderate Summer temperature and minimum of storm disturbances in sight. The 3d, and days next to it, will bring a marked rise in temperature, with very manifest tendencies to storms—electrical and otherwise.

From the 6th to 11th is a regular storm period in which, most likely, we will encounter some of the warmest weather of the Summer. On and about the 8th, 9th and 10th expect some very active developments. A brief respite from very high temperature is apt to pass Eastward during the days immediately preceding the reactionary return to warmth and storms about the 14th and 15th.

The planet Venus is at her equinox, with the new moon combined, on the 16th. Interested observers will be curious to watch the results. The combination is well calculated to produce disturbances peculiar to itself, outside a regular period though it is. Heat, thunder and hail are among the results to be looked for. These things, with threatening storm clouds rising from the Northwest, are sure to prevail in the regular period—19th to 22nd. The 20th is the day when the full strength of Venus will combine with "Vulcan;" on that, and the two days next following to the Eastward, watch their "antics." A marked fall from oppressively high temperature ought to follow from about the 21st in the West to 24 in the East. By that time the reaction will have started in the West, growing warmer in its eastward progress, culminating in some storm flurries about 26th or 27th The month will end hot, with a regular storm period central on the 30th.

The public must not lose sight of the fact that Jupiter departs from his protruding place in the heavens, he does not obliterate or change the regular periods of other planets; neither must it be concluded that such a mighty and slow-moving factor could wholly withdraw its influence within a month's time. But we hold that the change will begin to be manifest in July—The regular storm monuments will go on, but there will be more tendency to empay storminess. Clouds will rise and threaten, but with a growing tendency to waste themselves in barren bluster. This state of things will prevail and grow from this date forward. The regular maximum of summer and winter temperatures will return, with their many results of good and evil mixed. With it all—the Lord God Omnipotent lives and rules, and his loving kindness will never fail.

Blaine vs. Gladstone.

Blaine's famous reply to Gladstone has just been issued in pamphlet form. This is one of the ablest presentations of the benefits of Protection yet published, and should be widely read.
